FAUBUS REPORTS

Contributions Of $3-4,000 Received Each Day In Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Friday that contributions totaling "$3,000 or $4,000 a day" are coming in, mostly from outside Arkansas, for a private, segregated high school system in Little Rock.

It was the first time that an official has disclosed how the Little Rock Private School Corporation's campaign for funds was succeeding.

Faubus said none of the contributions is in answer to thousands of personal letters he sent all over the country, asking "urgently" for contributions. His letters haven't had time to be delivered and answered.

He met reporters Friday after a speech before the Women's City Club, which refused to let the reporters in. Faubus said he didn't talk about integration anyway.

TAX BILL

He said he does not think that a "premature" bill for income taxes on $105,449.14 from the local internal revenue office was sent deliberately to give him an excuse to attack President Eisenhower and the federal government.

"I don't think it was designed to give me ammunition," he said. "I think it could have been an honest mistake by a man figuring out what he thought I might owe.

"I'm not saying it was honest or dishonest. There is no way for me to probe their minds down there."

Faubus said he doesn't know whether the private school corporation will be able to start setting up classes in churches, homes and lodge halls by Oct. 15. He said earlier he expected classes to be in progress by then.

A fireman's wife asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to rule on the constitutionality of the law under which Faubus closed the city's four high schools.

The fireman's wife is Mrs. Gertie Garrett, a segregationist. If the state Supreme Court declares the law unconstitutional, Faubus will have no legal way to keep the schools closed.

Kenneth Coffelt, her lawyer, took the case to the Supreme Court from a chancery (state district) court. The chancery court threw out Mrs. Garrett's challenge.

"The suit is not friendly and not unfriendly," Coffelt said as he filed it. "There is no truth to reports that is was filed to give the governor a way out."

Coffelt said he did talk to Faubus in his office Thursday but "on another matter."

The appeal asks the state Su-

Union Officer Accuses Long, Commission

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A union officer Friday accused the Louisiana Civil Service Commission and Gov. Earl Long's chief fiscal officer of being inconsistent about pay raises.

Martin A. Simmons, president of Council 17, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, protested commission denial of 20 per cent cost-of-living pay boosts for employment security division employes.

The federal aid agency has about 600 workers who would have gained a raise, suggested in 1958 legislative action.

The civil service group, backed by commissioner of administration James S. Reily, who has charge of state fiscal affairs, denied the proposed pay increase.

REASONS

Among its reasons, the commission listed:

1. The U. S. Bureau of Employment Security would not provide federal funds for a cost-of-living increase unless employes of substantially all state agencies received a comparable boost.

2. Reily objected that the state was in an unfavorable financial condition, and "it would be inequitable for one group of employes to obtain the benefits of increases when similar increases for other state employes are not possible."

It was significant, Simmons said, Reily "had requested the upward allocation of some employes

Ouachita Valley Fair Moves Into Last Round Today

"Yesterday was the biggest Friday in the history of the Ouachita Valley Fair," declared fair manager John H. Birdsong last night.

Birdsong said that he had never seen such a crowd in all his years as manager of the parish fair. "Children turned out in mass and everyone seemed to be having a most gracious time," he enthusiastically exclaimed.

Today is the final day of the annual fair and has been set aside as a special day for children. All youngsters under the age of 12 will be admitted free and prices of the rides will be reduced.

Also slated for today is the award of a calf certificate to the outstanding 4-H club member of the year, presented by the West Monroe Civitan Club. The recipient may select whichever breed of dairy heifer he wants.

Commenting on the recent discontinuance of state funds for fairs and festivals by Governor Long, Birdsong said that the fair this year has been such a big success that already plans are underway for the 1959 fair.

400 Walk Off At Shreveport Plant

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — About 400 union men walked off their jobs here Friday at the Libby Owens Ford Glass Co. plant.

The walkout was in line with a work stoppage at the company plants across the nation. The workers here are members of Shreveport Local No. 5 United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union of North America.

There were no picket lines at the Shreveport plant. P. M. Nelson, president of the local, said 120 plant employes who are members of the non-striking Glass Cutters of America were laid off this morning.

Without members of his union on the job the glass cutters had nothing to do, Nelson said.

The school, maintained at Selman field, is attended by 32, mostly children, but there are some adults as well. Sessions start at 8 a.m. and continue through the day. Those attending come from all parts of north Louisiana, especially from the Fifth Congressional district. Four teachers are employed. Man Will Not Be Able To Sit Down

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Harry Biltz wants to look the world in the eye. So he has picked for himself a future in which he can never sit down.

It was a choice forced by an automobile accident nearly a year ago.

The 32-year-old former salesman and father of nine children will undergo surgery at Wichita next week to relieve painful muscle pressure on nerves in his legs and pelvis.

Physicians said they think the pain can be stopped by fusing his body in either a standing or sitting position. They told Biltz to decide which. He elected to stand.

Biltz told newsmen he wasn't at all concerned over not being able to sit down.

"I want to be able to look the world in the eye and not have to spend the rest of my life looking up at people," he said.

Biltz whose earnings averaged $9,000 a year before the accident, said he hopes to be able to return to work in another six months.

"I don't want help," he said. "I want to be able to return to work and not be dependent on anyone."

He said his employer is holding his job open and, if he's able to work and not be a liability, he will take it. Otherwise, he plans to learn some other occupation through rehabilitation training.

With the aid of crutches, Biltz stood before the annual Kansas Governor's Safety Conference and told the story of his crippling accident.

He was driving to his home at Colwich Kan., the evening of Nov. 23, 1957, when his small foreign car hit a stalled truck west of Wichita.

Soviet Union Turns Thumbs Down On Plan

U.S., Britain Propose Halt To A-Testing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The Soviet Union Friday turned thumbs down on a U. S. - British proposal for a one-year halt to nuclear weapons tests.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told the General Assembly's 81-nation main Political Committee that his country was prepared to agree to immediate suspension of nuclear tests "for all time."

But he said the Anglo-American proposal for a one-year moratorium on tests to begin with a three-power conference on the subject in Geneva Oct. 31 was "in effect, negative."

He indicated that the Soviet Union planned to conduct at least 100 more nuclear test explosions to catch up to the United States and Britain numerically.

6TH BLAST

Shortly after Zorin spoke the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in Washington announced that the Russians had staged the sixth explosion in their current nuclear test series.

Zorin spoke to the committee immediately after U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge opened the annual disarmament debate with an offer to disclose more U.S. se-

Farms Pour In Record Crop Volume

WASHINGTON (AP)—A volume of crops surpassing the previous record high by about 10.3 per cent is pouring from America's farms this year.

What's more, it is being grown on an acreage restricted by government controls and a soil bank land retirement program.

In a harvest-time report, the Agriculture Department Friday estimated the volume at 117 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This compared with the previous record high of 106 per cent set in 1948 and matched in 1956 and 1957.

PROGRESS

The big production reflects the progress being made in boosting acre yields through use of higher yielding varieties, more fertilizers, plant pesticides, modern farm machinery and equipment as well as generally favorable weather this year.

Acre yields were forecast at 142 per cent of the 1947-49 average compared with the previous high of 127 per cent set last year.

Featuring the production pattern are record crops of wheat, corn, sorghum grain, barley and soybeans and average or above average production of other crops.

As a consequence, surpluses of some crops — particularly wheat and livestock feed grains—will be raised to new record highs. This will put new burdens on government price support and storage programs.

The wheat crop was estimated at 1,449,000,000 bushels, compared with 947 million last year and the previous record of 1,358,000,000 in 1947. Perhaps more than a third of the crop will move into surplus stocks.

Corn was put at 3,686,000,000 bushels compared with 3,402,000,000 last year and the previous record of 3,605,000,000 in 1948. Perhaps

Report Moon Rocket Poised For Shot Today

Chance Of Success Is Rated Low

By FRANK CAREY
AP SCIENCE WRITER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force may hurl a cosmic forward pass Saturday in a shot for the moon.

When you're eating breakfast Saturday, a mighty Thor - Able rocket might well be on its 2½-day flight toward the moon. Provided, that is, all goes well—and the odds on even partial success are rated no better than 1 in 10.

While there's been no official announcement, reports are that the rocket with its unmanned satellite will be launched before dawn Saturday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The rocket will be aimed at a spot in space about 137,000 miles ahead of the moon's position at the time of launching. The hope is that the moon and the satellite would rendezvous somewhere near each other 2½ days later, just as a quarterback hopes a sprinting halfback will rendezvous with a forward pass thrown ahead of him.

221,000 MILES

But instead of yards, this celestial forward pass must travel some 221,000 miles—the distance between the earth and the moon at this particular time.

By an appropriate coincidence, this probing toward a new world in space may be under way on Columbus Day, the 466th anniversary of the discovery of America, which falls on Sunday.

Project scientists have said all along that while one of their hopes is to put the satellite into an orbit around the moon, the chances of doing so in a pioneering venture are extremely slim.

They say they'll consider a moonshot a success if they are able to shoot the rocket's instrumented payload within 50,000 miles of the moon, even though it doesn't go into orbit

They have said they'll regard the first venture a success if the rocket attains a speed of 24,000 miles an hour and escapes the earth's gravitational pull. They've

Rate Increase For Southern Bell Refused

Southern Bell's request for a $13 - million plus telephone rate increase was turned down yesterday by the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

In Monroe, Commissioner John J. McKeithen Jr. said the commission felt the company was entitled to a $1,918,707 increase, but denied the entire request because "of their open public defiance of the commission and their refusal to continue with any construction or improvement program."

The rejection brought a chain reaction of comments from Southern Bell officials.

W. E. Whetstone, Monroe district manager, said the commission's decision was "bad news to telephone employees in Monroe and West Monroe.

EARNINGS

"We know first hand how important good telephone earnings are to the Twin Cities' growth," Whetstone stated. "We had hoped that the decision would be the kind that would encourage telephone expansion and improvement so necessary to our area's present and future development."

He said, "Instead it has the opposite effect."

At New Orleans, Homer G. Bartee, Southern Bell's vice - president and general manager, said the decision was a "severe blow to Louisiana's growth and development and to continuing telephone progress."

The 51-page decision was released at Baton Rouge, reflecting charges by commission counsel Theo Cangelosi during better, year - long hearings of a "sit down strike" in service to build pressure for higher rates.

McKeithen, who was elected to the commission in 1954, triggered a move to reduce telephone rates by $4-million after taking office and the long battle followed.

COMMENT

He said, "After the rate reduction order was finally approved by the Louisiana Supreme Court, we refused to allow that increase to be put in effect."

U.S. Lashes Red China On Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States accused Red China Friday of giving other nations distorted information about secret negotiations with the United States on the Formosa crisis.

A State Department spokesman said the Reds are trying to put over a false picture of themselves as "champions of peace and sweet reasonableness."

He said actually all the world knows the attacks on Quemoy Island which touched off the crisis were started by the Chinese Communists themselves on Aug. 23.

The accusation came soon after U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam had met Red envoy Wang Ping-nan in Warsaw for the latest of the series of talks they started four weeks ago.

U.S. leaders hope that either in or out of the Warsaw talks the Reds will declare their intention to continue the seven-day cease-fire now in force in the Formosa area beyond next Sunday.

The State Department is trying to overcome what it considers to be a false impression in many countries that the Reds have been making a real effort at Warsaw to find a basis for serious negotiations toward a Folmosa agreement.

The State Department spokesman, press officer Lincoln White, declined at a news conference to give any detailed support for the distortion charge. He said he could not talk about what has been said by the Red Chinese ambassador at Warsaw since it was agreed at the outset not to make public disclosure of the exchanges.

But in general, he said, a broadcast statement from Red China Thursday night illustrated what he was talking about. This broadcast said tensions in the Formosa Strait had been "wholly created by the United States and the key to elimination of the tensions is for the United States to withdraw."

ON QUEMOY

Arms, Provisions Pouring Ashore

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Arms and provisions poured ashore on Quemoy Friday in a major Nationalist Chinese drive to supply the battered offshore island before the Communist seven-day cease-fire expires at midnight Sunday.

The chief of the U. S. military advisory group on Quemoy said the supply operations were functioning smoothly now and that "these people the Nationalist are here to stay."

Col. Douglas Lane, who was sent to Quemoy to help the Nationalists crack the Communist artillery blockade, added, however, that "We will be listening closely at one minute after midnight Sunday."

The calm that has existed in the Formosa Strait since the Reds proclaimed the truce last Monday morning was interrupted Friday by a fierce dogfight between Nationalist Sabrejets and Communist Chinese MIGs near Matsu Island.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said four MIGs were destroyed and two others damaged in the 25-minute aerial battle. It said a fifth MIG and a Sabre collided in the air and crashed.

The Communist radio, describing what apparently was the same dogfight, claimed that three Nationalist planes were shot down when a flight of six "intruded" over Fukien Province on the mainland. The radio said two of the Sabres crashed on the mainland and that one Nationalist pilot was captured.

Nationalist convoys delivered to Quemoy supplies described by Nationalist officials as a "record-smashing amount."

Youth Cracks Up In Stolen CAP Airplane

MARATHON, Fla. (UPI)—A 20-year-old Boston youth, masquerading as the new Miami Civil Air Patrol commander, stole a CAP plane from Miami Friday and cracked up on a key near here on his way to Cuba, authorities said.

Sheriff's deputies said the youth, who was uninjured, identified himself as Paul E. Lynch of Boston.

Lynch said he walked into the CAP headquarters at Miami airport early Friday and told members there that he was the new CAP commander for Miami. They promptly rolled out a single-engined Stinson L5 for him to try out and Lynch headed for Cuba.

He said he landed the plane on nearby Plantation Key for gas before attempting the cross-water hop to Cuba. He charged 20 gallons of fuel to the Miami CAP and was revving up his engine for takeoff when Sheriff's Deputy Norman Parker arrived at the scene to find out why the plane had landed on a field near a housing project.

U.S. Agrees To Talk With Reds On Atom Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States agreed Friday to begin talks with Russia and other East-West nations at Geneva Nov. 10 on technical problems involved in reducing the danger of atomic surprise attack.

The talks were suggested by President Eisenhower last summer in hopes they might eventually lead to some inspection system to make sure the free and Communist bloc nations never launch a Pearl Harbor type attack at each other.

However, the President emphasized at the time—and the state department repeated Friday — that the Geneva meeting would not bind either side to enter into such an agreement.

Russia, in agreeing to the proposal on Sept. 15, suggested that the talks begin Nov. 10. It said the Communist bloc would be represented by the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania and proposed that the United States, Britain, France and Belgium represent the West.

The State Department, in a note to Moscow, accepted the Nov. 10 date. But it said the Allies had decided after consultations to eliminate Belgium from the proposed list of Western negotiators and to

'Auto-Cat' For Prisons Urged

SHEFFIELD, England (UPI)—A magistrate introduced Friday a new automatic cat - o' - nine - tails which he suggested for use in Britain's prisons.

Magistrate Herman Lindars, 59, said his invention could give a "scientifically - controlled" number of lashes administered to suit the age and health of the prisoner —and in private.

Flogging is permitted in Britain only as punishment for violence by a prisoner.

Lindars, in discussing the reasons for his invention, explained that "one of the points most frequently made against corporal punishment is the degrading and morally damaging effect it has on those who have to administer it."

AS RECOVERY SIGN

President Welcomes Unemployment Dip

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower welcomed Friday a decline in unemployment as a sign of accelerating economic recovery. He said continuing recovery can be extended in the months ahead.

In a statement having political overtones, Eisenhower said it is noteworthy that employment conditions have improved "while the cost of living has been virtually stable."

The President's statement was pegged to a report of the Commerce and Labor departments in Washington that unemployment dropped 588,000 last month and employment increased in recession-hit durable goods industries.

The statement bore no political stickers as such. But Eisenhower ordinarily doesn't issue formal statements on the monthly employment reports, although Friday's wasn't unprecedented.

Democrats have been bearing down on the pocketbook issue among others in the congressional election campaign, and Vice President Nixon has accepted it as the top issue.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty flew up from Washington to consult with the President, get out the statement, and obtain Eisenhower's signature on a batch of official papers.

The chief executive also got some recreation in his golf togs—18 holes of golf at the Gettysburg Country Club. Then he drove back to his Catoctin Mountain hideaway Camp Davis, where he is spending a quiet weekend with a group of friends. The retreat is about 25 miles from here, near Thurmont, Md.

Big Attendance Expected Today At Art Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — A record crowd is expected today for the opening of the Caldwell Parish Art Festival starting at 9 a.m.

According to State Art Director Jay Broussard, the annual event, held at the Community Center here is the largest rural art festival in the state.

"We want to show how the arts are incorporated into daily living," Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, co-chairman of the event stated. Miss Willie Mae Seab, also co-chairman of the festival, pointed out the program would include professional writing, history compiling, architecture and art in the styling of clothes.

C. C. Minard will act as master of ceremonies for the morning program. Invocation will be by Rev. J. E. Sharp and welcome by Mayor Orvis Watson of Columbia. "Professional Writing" will be the title of a talk by Jeraldine Beck. This will be followed by a talk preme Court to determine whether Act 4 in a package of anti-integration legislation the Legislature passed in August violates a constitutional provision that the state must maintain public schools.

Act 4 gives Faubus the right to close any or all schools in a district if the federal government orders either troops or U.S. marshals used to enforce integration.

It also provides for a special election so the voters of a school district may decide whether they want closed schools reopened segregated or integrated.

The election has already been held in Little Rock. The people voted almost 3-1 on Sept. 27 against integrated schools.

The schools, in fact, have never opened. They were supposed to open Sept. 2. More than 3,000 students have missed the first six weeks' period of schooling.

If the state Supreme Court rules the law unconstitutional, the election as well as the school closing law will be invalid.

Coffelt said, however, that it probably will be a minimum of 60 days before the court hears the appeal. A hearing could be expedited, however.

crets to the Soviet Union in future disarmament negotiations.

The difference in tone between Zorin's and Lodge's speeches was drastic. Lodge chided the Soviet Union for blocking by boycott the U.N. Disarmament Committee and its subcommittee but expressed hope, based on experience of the past year, that East and West eventually could reach a disarmament agreement.

Zorin pulled out the stops, accusing the United States, Britain and France of trying to prolong and intensify the arms race.

Lodge reiterated the Anglo-American proposal to suspend nuclear weapons testing for a year beginning with the start of negotiations in Geneva.

But he said a permanent nuclear disarmament must be coupled with reduction of conventional arms and armaments as the United States has insisted all along.

Zorin took heated opposition to this. He said the United States was trying to put cessation of nuclear arms tests last. He said this should be the first step toward disarmament and it should not be coupled with other disarmament questions.

A U.S. delegation spokesman said he would not consider this an outright rejection of the one-year moratorium offer until it came from Moscow. In any case, he said, it would not stop the Geneva meeting.

As for the commission itself, Simmons added, "one gets the strong conviction that the commission made its decision to deny a cost-of-living increase first and then attempted to justify its lack of action by confusing the issue rather than basing its denial on facts."

Commenting on the commission's position that all employes should receive "equal treatment," Simmons said members apparently were "little concerned with equal treatment when salaries of all public welfare employes were reduced because of lack of funds, while other agencies were not forced to act similarly."

The department said this country expected the talks to be strictly technical and "without prejudice to the respective positions" of the United States and Russia as to which areas might be covered by an arms inspection system.

It added that the talks—like those held last July on how to detect nuclear explosions — should "examine the methods and objects of control and . . . assess the results that might be obtained from the adoption of those methods in lessening the danger of surprise military attack."

The results, it said, then should be laid before the respective participating governments for their consideration.

The United States and Russia have been unable to agree what areas should be open to aerial inspection in any such plan.

der no circumstances should it yield to a sitdown strike which the telephone company has publicly proclaimed it is engaging in," McKeithen stated.

He explained, "If we were to yield to the strike of the telephone company the commission would be surrendering its rate making powers completely and would be setting a precedent for every utility company under the commission's jurisdiction."

The decision at Baton Rouge charged Southern Bell with "grossly inadequate service and an arbitrary slowdown in expansion."

But Bartee said, "In the face of our proven need, the Commission has given us absolutely nothing. Evidence presented by Southern Bell fully justifies the need for a substantial increase."

"This evidence was supported by several witnesses, among them prominent Louisiana business leaders," Bartee said. "Our low earnings rate was substantiated by an independent auditing firm of nation-wide reputation."

He charged the commission's decision was "completely opposed to the people's best interest."

"That is why we have no alternative but to appeal the commission's decision to the courts," Bartee stated.

In 1956, the commission ordered Southern Bell to trim pay station calls from a dime to a nickle and reduce long distance calls in Louisiana by 20 per cent.

This was estimated to reduce telephone company earnings $3,940,000. Southern Bell said it cost them more than five million in revenues.

The decision said the denial was "without prejudice. . .to the right of the company to apply for an increase in rates consistent with the findings made herein at such time as it can offer satisfactory proof that it is rendering adequate intrastate service to its Louisiana subscribers and has undertaken a sufficient improvement and expansion program for its Louisiana intrastate operations. . ."

The three commissioners indicated it "may be a considerable time" before Southern Bell could satisfy them about it service.

Throughout the hearings, Southern Bell attorneys hammered away at one point — low earnings stifled expansion in Louisiana.

This was echoed in newspaper, television and radio advertisements over the state, a campaign that drew sharp criticism from Commission Chairman Nat B. Knight.

DEMANDED

Knight demanded the cost of the telephone company's drive for higher rates be computed apart from operating costs.

The commission ruling said Southern Bell doesn't pretend "that it has made the slightest effort to keep pace with the demand for telephone service" in fast-growing Louisiana.

"The company readily admits that it has deliberately curtailed its expansion program," the decision added. ". . .The only excuse offered for such curtailment is that the rates fixed by us in the previous case were inadequate.

"In view of the fact that the order fixing these rates was unanimously approved by the Supreme Court of Louisiana, such arbitrary action borders on contempt.

"The commission cannot condone the company's violation of its public obligation on such grounds."

The commission said it sincerely hopes Southern Bell "will recognize its duty and we know that when it does the present inadequacy of service will soon be remedied. . ."

Borrowing the words of the California Utility Commission, the Louisiana body said, "We suggest that the interest of both the petitioner and the public would be better served if petitioner would under-take to discharge its public duty with the same vigor and effort that it expends in seeking rate relief."

While leaving the door open, the commission added, "It may be a considerable time before Southern Bell can present to us the proofs necessary to put into effect the rates found reasonable in this opinion."

Key witness in this and the earlier rate case where the reduction was ordered was Arnold Hirsch, Washington, D. C., utilities consultant.

The rate the commission said was justified actually was higher than the $1,790,000 Hirsch said was the "maximum conceivable increase" Southern Bell was entitled to.

"Southern Bell attorney Raburn Monroe, during an angry exchange at the hearings, called Hirsch's rate theories "a blue print for financial disaster."

Hirsch has appeared as expert witness in dozens of rate cases in the United States and Canada, including a recent case in Mississippi.

half a billion bushels of this crop also will move into surplus holdings, along with sizable quantities of the record sorghum grain crop which was estimated at 607,000,000 bushels, up eight per cent from last year.

The indicated production of all oil seeds—soybeans, peanuts, flaxseed and cottonseed—was 18 per cent above last year's record. Here a surplus disposal problem was in prospect.

Grant said the girl, a 15-year-old West Monroyan, was allegedly offended Oct. 3.

Both suspects were placed under $750 bonds.

Ouachita Sheriff's officials said yesterday a woman identified as Edith Bell, will be returned here from Colfax to face an indictment of false swearing.

The woman was arrested by Colfax authorities on charges of disturbing the peace.

Missile Defense Being Discussed

OTTAWA (AP) — The United States and Canada opened exploratory discussions Thursday on coordinating their production facilities for missile defense.

A high Canadian official said the one-day meeting took up production problems raised by Canada's decision to arm its air defense system with U.S.-made Bomarc ground-to-air missiles.

Unemployment Down 588,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment dropped by 588,000 in September to a 1958 low of 4,111,000, the government reported Friday. It recorded "a significant improvement in the job situation," especially for male breadwinners.

A joint report by the Labor and Commerce departments said the decline was just about double the seasonal decrease that normally occurs in September. Employment was "especially brisk" in such basic industries, as steel, autos and home appliances.

The report also showed that average earnings of factory production workers rose by 82 cents to a record high of $85.17 a week. The increase was due to a hike in hourly wage rates, plus a seasonal expansion in the average factory wor' week to 39.8 hours.

The report was the most favorable since the recession started a year ago. It came on the heels of a flat statement by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell Thursday night that the recession was over. GOP campaigners in the congressional elections were expected to hammer at this theme.

Due to a seasonal quirk, the total number of employed persons dropped at the same time that unemployment declined. Total employment fell by 738,000 to 64,629,000 due to a lull in farm activity and the return of working students to school.

But the big drop in the jobless total pushed down the proportion of the available labor force still unemployed from 7.6 per cent in August to 7.2 per cent in September. Economists considered this percentage drop the most significant factor in the report.

Even so, unemployment last month was still 1,559,000 higher than in September a year ago, while employment was down 1,045,000.

The report said that factory employment rose by 240,000 from August to September, to a total of 15,700,000. The gain was centered in the durable goods industries, the economic sector hardest hit by the recession.

The increase was the biggest one-month improvement since factory employment hit a recession low in May.

Also on the optimistic side, the report noted that the pickup in hiring resulted in "the first significant drop in unemployment among adult men since the recession began."

The number of jobless men 25 years old or more fell by 300,000 to 1,800,000 in September. It was the first time this year that the figure had dipped below the two million mark.

Another indication of strong improvement was a drop of 200,000 in the number of workers unemployed 15 weeks or longer. This figure usually holds steady in September. The report said this was the first seasonally adjusted drop since the total began rising last year.

Employment remained at lower levels in the mining and transportation industries. It picked up in the retail trades with the usual autumn expansion of sales.

Air-To-Ground Missile Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Air Force jet plane roared in over the cape Friday and fired a highly classified air-to-ground missile into the Atlantic.

The Air Force confirmed that the missile was launched, but officials declined to identify the type.

The air-to-surface missile program often makes use of instrumentation facilities at the cape for test purposes.

After the jet roared by only a puffy white vapor trail in the sky showed that a missile had been fired.

Industry In Politics

Gravely concerned because of labor's apparent domination of a large proportion of the members of congress, at least two of the nation's major industries have announced their intention to enter politics on a militant and aggressive basis.

Tired of seeing 90 per cent of this country's population dominated by the 10 to 15 per cent in organized labor, these two industries have stated that if industry is to survive it must make its political voice as strong as that of labor. These two industries are oil and lumber.

Gulf Oil Corp. announced its entry into politics, with organized labor named as the firm's chief adversary. Gulf's aim is to help restore balance in government, ending the dominance which organized labor holds over congress and the consequent detriment to the nation's welfare.

Addressing a semi-annual meeting of the Western Pine Association, Mortimer B. Doyle, executive vice-president of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, said:

"Lumbermen must exert a greater effort to elect state and federal candidates who will 'truly represent' the interests of business. The responsibility of finding and selecting such men remains with you. We can no longer afford to let others select and elect congressional candidates for us.

"How can we safeguard our way of doing business, our private enterprise system, our basic constitutional rights, privileges and responsibilities?

"I say to you now, with all emphasis and sincerity at my command, that unless we immediately, each of us, become politicians, soon we may not have a business system to safeguard. And here I am not talking about partisan politics."

In a vigorous statement of the firm's new policy, Archie D. Gray, Gulf's senior vice-president, stated:

"If we are to survive, labor's political power must now be opposed by a matching force, and there is no place in the United States where such a force can be generated except among the corporations that make up Ameican business.

"If our free, competitive institutions are to be preserved from destruction by the unholy combination of predatory gangsterism and crackpot socialism that is thriving and expanding under labor's congressional benevolence, then business has no choice. It must become political, or throw in the towel.

It is a well known fact that legislation of clean gangsterism, hoodlumism and embezzlement out of the labor unions of the nation was defeated by congressmen who were elected through the efforts of labor bosses and who were acting upon the dictates of those bosses. These same labor bosses have marked for defeat (if they can do it) those members of congress who dared to maintain their independence and refused to become mere labor puppets in the house and senate.

One of the most able and conscientious members of congress, Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (R-N. Y.), had this to say on the business-labor situation:

"Over 175 members of the house have benefited from union contributions, free campaign help, radio and TV time, advertising, extensive publicity in the labor press, scores of voluntary workers furnished by the unions, telephone brigades and all the rest of it. Business organizations do none of this. Business as such is unorganized politically and therefore impotent.

"If the businessmen of America won't see to it that men are elected who are committed to restoring constitutional government and law and order in labor management, who else will?"

Heretofore industry has largely kept out of politics, contenting itself with the production and distribution of its products. This would be ideal if labor would do the same thing.

Under the present setup, however, the caliber of our legislative, executive and judicial bodies, particularly on a national scale, is out of balance because labor exerts political pressure, while business and industry do not.

To restore the balance of power and to regain a democratic system, instead of a socialistic regime, it has become vitally important that business and industry play major roles in politics.

Death Of The Pope

The whole western world and many in other parts of the globe were filled with sorrow over the death of Pope Pius XII. This included not only the many millions of Catholics whom the pope represented but people of all faiths in many nations.

There could be nothing but love and respect and admiration for this great, noble and gentle man, who devoted all of his energies to serving mankind and directing all people toward the God he worshipped.

To a large extent, the words of President Eisenhower express the feeling of people throughout the world toward the pope. The president said:

"His was a life full of devotion and service to his fellow men. I was privileged to know him personally. With men of good will everywhere, I mourn his passing.

"He was an informed and articulate foe of tyranny, he was a sympathetic friend and benefactor to those who were oppressed, and his helping hand was always quick to aid unfortunate victims of war.

"Without fear or favor, he consistently championed the cause of a just peace among the nations of the earth. A man of profund vision, he kept pace with a rapidly changing universe, yet never lost sight of mankind's eternal destiny."

Almost to the end, the pope carried on his valiant and unceasing labors in behalf of a higher plane of spiritual life. Only a few days before his death, he had issued a manifesto intended to turn his followers away from practices which he considered evil.

No pope in history was ever more cordial to people in all walks of life. Pope Pius XII granted a tremendous number of audiences, even in the last four years of life, when he had fought his way back to renewed vitality after a serious illness in 1954 had carried him to the brink of death.

All those who have known and followed the life of this noble man of God must, at the end, say: "Well done."

BASCOM TIMMONS

Democratic Gains Seen In Four Biggest States

A DEMOCRATIC AUTUMN — Outlook of contests in four biggest states six weeks before election shapes up this way:

New York — Democrats lead for Governor and United States Senator; Republican for Attorney General.

California — Democrats retain big lead for Governor, United States Senator and in majority of Congressional races.

Pennsylvania — Democrat leads for Governor; close for United States Senator.

Ohio — Bricker, Republican, seems safe for United States Senator; DiSalle, Democrat, probably leads for Governor.

Overall Congressional picture—Democrats to gain from 8 to 12 Senate seats; from 20 to 30 seats in House of Representatives.

PUTTING IT IN WRITING — Some insiders say President Eisenhower told Attorney General Rogers to mark time until he had studied "the expression of our views" which the Supreme Court in deciding the Little Rock case last week promised "will be prepared and announced in due course." Belief is that court which found it easy to be unanimous in its order in the Little Rock case is not finding it easy to agree on language supporting the order. Observers are divided on predictions about whether Court will attempt to define "all deliberate speed."

BATTLE SITE UNAVAILABLE —Arlington, across the river and bedroom for many Washington government workers, was site Department of Justice and National Association for Advancement of Colored People, chose for principal battleground for fight against Virginia's "massive resistance" laws. Action of Federal Judge Bryan in denying 26 Negro applications and approving only four, and those all in one school with admission delayed to January semester, temporarily delayed use of that battle site.

LABOR'S ELECTION EFFORTS — Labor, shorter on money but with better political organization than ever, is giving its principal attention to election of members of House of Representatives in marginal districts and to election of state legislatures Purpose in winning legislatures is two - fold: (1) to prevent anti-labor legislation; (2) to rearrange Congressional Districts to allow election of more pro-labor Representatives: Example: California figures to have 38 Congressmen after 1960 census. Labor thinks with right re-districting it can elect 25 of the 38.

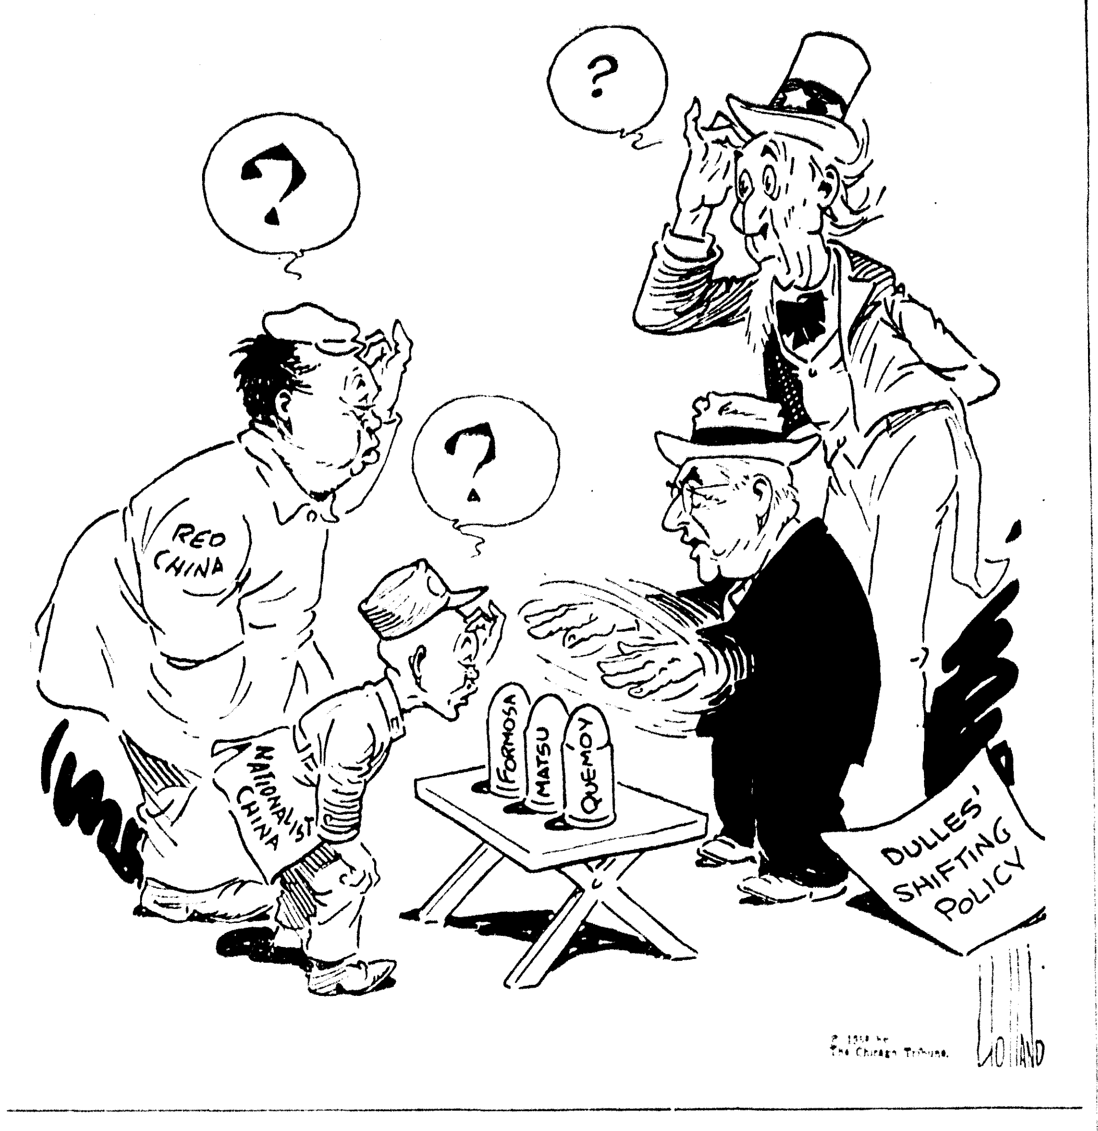
LITTLE GORE TALK — In all the buzzing about Presidential and Vice Presidential candidate there is surprisingly little talk about Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee, who won an impressive victory in his race for renomination to the Senate. Partly this may be due to growing feeling that no Southerner need apply for nomination at the next Democratic National Convention. Another reason is the feeling on second look that Gore's opponent was a has been, a political down-and-outer.

HOT FIGHT IN WASHINGTON — District by District hardest fought Congressional races will be in state of Washington, where a Democratic legislature and Governor have drawn new Congressional lines. Democrats naturally redistricted in manner they believe would give them the advantages in several districts and are regarded as certain to pick up some seats in State where the allignment now is six Republicans and one Democrat.

NEW SPLINTER PARTY — Newest splinter party is a one-man affair manned by Representative Paul A. Fino, Republican, New York. Fino announced he would be a candidate for re-election on the "Government Lottery Ticket," and will also run for re-election as a Republican. Fino, who has long advocated a national lottery, will ask voters who favor such a lottery to vote for him on the National Lottery ticket.

GLOBAL BASE BUMBLING — Morocco where the United States will gradually bow out leaving $400,000,000 worth of facilities, is only one of the places where Uncle Sam's face is red over air bases. Japanese situation also is critical. Fact is that only in Turkey and Spain are military men anywhere near satisfied with our agreements on air bases.

The Old Shell Guessing Game



GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Backward Nations Aided By Foreign Investments

That terrible word, exploitation, is on many lips these days. The British, the French, the Dutch, even in a measure, the Americans have engaged in awful exploitation. But the Russians apparently never exploited anyone but each other and only the peoples who have unfortunately become enslaved to them, which brings down on them no opprobrium.

I see in the Winchester (Va.) Evening Star an item about one Jamal A. Sa'd who travels about the United States telling of the wonders of Nassar, the Arab. Says Sa'd concerning colonialism:

"... this philosophy calls for the exploitation of the national wealth of the colonized territory, through transfer of raw materials to the home country to promote local industries—the process ending in floating the goods and commodities of the colonial power back where the raw materials came from in the first place."

Well, let's look at the record:

For millenia, the oil which is bringing wealth and perhaps some day an improved standard of life to the Middle East, lay under the sands of the deserts. Some of it seeped to the surface and was used for trifling purposes, but nothing was done about it by these peoples who today regard themselves as important and progressive. It was principally the British and later the Americans who went into Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and other Arabian countries, poured millions of dollars into exploration and development, set up machinery and pumps and pipelines and in due course brought to the governments of those countries vast revenues from this oil.

It is not the foreigner who exploited these peoples. If anybody did any exploiting, it was the governments which accepted their share of the proceeds and spent it on riotous living of ruling individuals.

I, myself, witnessed what foreign investments did in a country like China. Take as an example, the area on the Yangtze River known as Wuhan, which included the cities of Hankow, Wuchang, and Hanyang. Hankow was a highly developed foreign-controlled metropolis, with paved streets, schools churches, public institutions, factories, mills, warehouses, enormous business activity in which more Chinese engaged than foreigners and in which Chinese individuals made more money than foreigners did. Wuchang was an ancient capital city, dirty, fly-ridden, with narrow streets of foul odor. Hanyang was an ugly place where was situated a steel plant.

Those who liked the picturesque rather than the wholesome might have preferred Chapei, the Chinese area, to the International Settlement of Shanghai, but where foreign capital came, a rising standard of living also came. One of the most serious problems that faced China for several centuries was the surplus population in the villages and on the land. The only practical solution was for the surplus men to become bandits and the surplus girls to become prostitutes and slave girls. And that is what happened, the bandits always being a serious problem until they were absorbed in the army.

By surplus population is meant more people than a given area can feed. The bandit groups of Kuangsi and Yunnan became serious political problems because too large a share of the national income had to be spent either suppressing or supporting them. Often when they were absorbed into the Chinese army, their leaders became war lords and fought for additional territory and revenue.

But when a cigarette factory or a cotton mill, by whomsoever owned, came into such an area, the surplus population disappeared because the industry absorbed that surplus either directly or in related supply or service industries. There was no exploitation in this but vast benefits to the ordinary people because many of them for the first time in their lives participated in a money economy. They got wages for their work and with some companies they got such fringe benefits as they hardly knew existed in this world.

True, these benefits whetted their appetites for more money and more benefits which in time led to various forms of discontent and to strikes. This is undoubtedly a normal human reaction to a rising standard of life. But even such strikes did not indicate exploitation; they rather gave assurance that the capitalist system was functioning beneficially for these people. It stirred them to desire more consumers' goods.

Why did not the Chinese, who had plenty of capital, initiate these industrial activities which absorbed surplus populations? Why did not the Hindus or the Arabs do what the Europeans did?

Blimp Walking May Come Soon

When the hula hoop craze finally burns itself out in an epidemic of dislocated hips, the fad makers of America might look into blimp walking as a replacement item.

Bizarre, time-consuming, dandy escapism for old and young, blimp walking could become bigger than bingo. Bird walking and girl walking aren't even in the same league.

I was introduced to this little known sport when assigned to cover the recent flight of the Navy blimp, "Snow Goose," to the North Pole region.

The first of several lessons took place on a gravel runway in the Arctic with pot holes deep as oil drums, mud like an inch-thick layer of peanut butter and puffles colder than a muskox's metatarsal.

It takes 50 men, 15 on each of the two forward mooring lines and 10 each on the lines amidship to nuzzle along the block-long silver bag puffed up with more than a million cubic feet of helium.

Blimp walking is done in two directions: toward the mooring mast or away from it, depending on where you want to go and where the wind wants to take you. Frequently these aims are in conflict. Then you either drag the blimp or it drags you.

It's a little like trying to get an elephant through a subway turnstile with a bent token.

Blimps are not exactly flown like a kite. They have engines for taking off and landing, but their mastadonic dimensions require some chaperoning. The technique is similar to berthing a big ocean liner: lines are cast off and grabbed and everyone hopes for the best.

"Snow Goose," always seemed to object to being led by the noose on a leash. Up on Cornwallis Island, 500 miles above the Arctic Circle, she threw a takeoff tantrum and veered off the runway into a ditch. Her right front landing gear held fast in the permafrost beneath the mud, and a distinguished ground handling crew, volunteers all (carefully selected by the Navy pronoun pool: "You, you and you), set about extricating her.

The party included, among others, a Columbia University geologist, a Navy geographer and glaciologist, a commodore from the Canadian navy, the commandant of the RCAF base on that remote island, two cooks in crisp white uniforms, assorted commanders and lieutenant commanders, and an Associated Press reporter, namely myself.

Blimp walking went over big. Everybody got in on it, mainly because there was nobody else.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Self-Made Man Nervous At Club

Tim is a big, athletic fellow but he is almost scared to death. He says he sheds buckets of "cold" sweat when he has to give a report at his service men's club. And he grows so nervous, he develops a headache. So study the data below and be sure you have that booklet in your file if you sing or speak in public.

Case Z — 342: Tim G., aged 31, is a self - made man who now belongs to a service men's club.

"Dr. Crane, I'm scared to death, though," he admitted "especially when I'm on a committee and am asked to make a report.

"I shed buckets of 'cold' sweat and stammer and stutter like an amateur.

"Should I drop out of the club? Why, I become so nervous that I may have a headache the rest of the day, just because of a few words I have been asked to utter at the luncheon."

BRAVO "COLD" SWEAT

Tim should be grateful for his "cold" sweat. That's the type of prespiration that means you are getting ahead in the world.

Hot sweat is helpful, but you can shed literally barrels of it in some manual labor job, such as being a section hand on the railroad, without ever climbing a single rung on the ladder to success.

But when you tremble and shake and feel the cold sweat on your brow or in the palms of your hands, be grateful!

For that means you are getting out of your accustomed depth and are being forced to learn new habits to meet bigger opportunities.

Tim says he feels like an amateur. Well, why shouldn't he? For he is an amateur.

He wouldn't expect to sit down at the piano for the first time and rival Paderewski, would he?

Then why think you can be an accomplished orator when you haven't addressed more than a dozen audiences.

It's the first 100 speeches that are the hardest. So take heart: All of us professional speakers have gone through this "cold" sweat phase.

"There's no royal road to learning," runs the ancient adage and it also applies to popularity, public speaking, writing and all other professional chores.

At the outset, every beginner is nervous and jittery God Almighty intended it that way, for when we are thus keyed up, our thoughts percolate more swiftly so we are not so likely to miss a trick.

To avoid showing your tremors, however, mount your speech notes or sheet music on a heavy cardboard background.

If that is impossible, then seize the flimsy sheets in both hands and pull gently in opposite directions. This maneuver will kill almost every sign of your tremor, though you may still be as jittery as a cat.

If you are making a speech, be sure you have a central theme or idea that can serve as the motif.

Upon this motif you can string a number of cases or illustrations, told as narratives (stories).

Save your funny stories for later in the talk or fade out with a joke. You don't need humor at the start, for the audience will usually give you undivided attention for 3 to 5 minutes till it sizes you up.

Use the jokes, therefore to waken the audience and leave them laughing when you say goodbye.

Jesus used this "narrative" method of speaking and almost every great orator has subconsciously adopted it, without any formal training in college.

It is the surefire method for making a speech that people relish. And it relieves you of the tedium of memorizing a long, dry "essay" type of talk.

For further advice, send for my booklet "Surefire Public Platform Strategy" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Pass these booklets around at your club meetings or in school, as thousands of such groups are doing, for they are non - profit educational aids, so the more of you who can benefit from them, the better service they render.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

City Pollution Can Be Limited

Most large cities are rivals of Los Angeles, so far as smog is concerned. The residents are complaining of smoke, gases, deposits of soot and fly-ash, spontaneous runs in hose, and exhausts and odors from cars, buses, and trucks.

Pollution comes from many sources and it is not easy to disrupt the economy of an industrial district for the sake of clean air. Converting plants into smokeless units and changing equipment is an expensive operation. On the other hand, there is no reason why city fathers should close their eyes to unnecessary pollution and delay ordinances that will insure the proper treatment of particularly harmful exhausts. Stricter enforcement of existing laws is all that is needed in many areas.

Every city has a different problem, depending upon atmospheric conditions, air currents, local industry, heating, and the number of vehicles. In New York City, for example, the greatest source of pollution is from burning fuel for heat, light, power, and transportation.

In 1956 this metropolis had more than 200,000 multiple dwellings, 600,000 one or two family houses, 2 million motor vehicles, and 10,000 incinerators. These sources spew 1 million tons of sulfur dioxide into the air every year.

Some authorities doubt whether air pollution affects health but the majority agree that a relationship exists and have ample proof to back up their contention. The Meuse Valley and Donora disasters provide verification of the harmful effects of smog.

Those who suffer most are the aged and victims of asthma, respiratory diseases, heart trouble, or anxiety. Repeated exposures irritate the lungs, causing chronic bronchitis. Air pollution is suspected as contributing to lung cancer. In Los Angeles, smog irritates the eyes, nose, and throat and leads to decreased attentiveness and efficiency among school children. The local vegetation also is affected.

EYE HEMORRHAGE

G. W. writes: What is done for a hemorrhage of the eye?

REPLY

Have a good ophthalmologist determine the cause. Small hemorrhages often are absorbed. Others are partially absorbed and leave opacities. The immediate management is absolute rest, bandage to the eye, and treatment of the causative disease. When hypertension is responsible, for example, an attempt is made to lower the blood pressure.

EATING AFTER HEALING

D. L. writes: After a peptic ulcer heals, can the person eat anything he wants to?

REPLY

He can but it may not be wise to do so. Avoid highly spiced, rich, and greasy dishes. An occasional slip will do no harm but concentrate mainly on bland food. Ulcers tend to recur in the spring and fall, which means that a return to the ulcer diet is recommended during these seasons.

ANIMAL TB

R. W. writes: Do animals get tuberculosis?

REPLY

Yes. Cattle are most susceptible and pets also develop the disease, particularly if tuberculosis is in the household.

GASTRIC POLYP

F. R. writes: Is a polyp in the stomach serious?

REPLY

Yes, because it is potentially malignant. The outcome is excellent when the polyp is removed as soon as it is discovered.

COLD MILK

Mrs. J. writes: Is it safe to give milk right out of the refrigerator to a year old baby?

REPLY

This practice is not recommended but will do no harm. Some time ago I read an article by a pediatrician who advised cold rather than warm milk.

Daily Devotion

Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again. — John 3:7.

Nicodemus did not understand when Christ told him that he must be "born again" — for he did not understand the things of the spirit. No one marvels at the idea of changing political beliefs — yet this is a sort of rebirth. In the Bible we have a Saul "breathing out threatenings and slaughter" against the Disciples and then the reborn Paul who said that he was "determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and Him crucified". Only a fool refuses to change his mind and objectives.

God, our Father, help us to open our minds and hearts to Thy truth. In the name of Christ, Thy Son, we pray. Amen.

FOR CITIES, PARISHES

Committee Seeks More Revenues

Ways to find new revenue for cities and parishes in Louisiana will be the major topic at 10 a.m. Monday, when the Special Liason Committee of the State Legislature meets in the State Capitol in Baton Rouge.

The session, which will be held in Committee Room No. 1, will be attended by Lt. Gov. Lether E. Frazar, Speaker of the House Robert Angelle, two members of the Senate, three from the House of Representatives, and officials of the Police Jury Association and the Louisiana Municipal Association.

The Committee was appointed to study legislative needs of police juries and cities of Louisiana.

It is the result of the House concurrent resolution No. 11, of 1958, which sets up a joint legislative committee to study the needs and plan of legislation of the Police Jury Association and Municipal Association, and make recommendations to the next Legislature.

The first meeting will be held Monday.

W. A. Breedlove, of Monroe, secretary of the Police Jury Association, said yesterday that from advance reports, "it seems the Legislature is anxious to return more responsibility to the cities and parishes, for solving their own problems and providing means by which to do it."

INDICATED

He indicated that the Legislature might "even be willing to yield its monopoly on taxation if it were relieved of certain responsibilities, such as highways, public and welfare."

Police Jury Association members of the Committee are Association President A. B. Mount of Sulphur; A. E. Montgomery Sr. of Monroe, first vice - president; W. A. Breedlove, secretary; R. Eddie Evans, of Ruston, treasurer; Charles L. Horne Jr., Shreveport, second vice - president; W. W Dumas of Baton Rouge, third vice-president.

Attending from the Louisiana Municipal Association will be Mayor George W. Bowden of Alexandria, president; and Mayor Sidney Gray of Lake Charles, executive vice - president and chairman of the Legislative Committee.

State Legislators attending will be Representatives Vail Delony of East Carroll parish and Spencer Myrick of West Carroll, who authored the resolution which created the Committee, and Rep. Bert Adams of Vernon parish.

Senators will be Sen Herman "Wimpy" Jones of Bossier and Webster parishes, and Sen. Arsene Stewart, representing the five-parish 14th Senatorial district - Allen, Cameron, Jefferson Davis, Calcasieu and Beauregard parishes.

Compromise Conference To Be Sent Reds

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and Great Britain shortly will send to Moscow a compromise plan for the forthcoming Geneva Conference with the Soviet Union on the possibility of suspending nuclear weapon tests, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The Soviet Union demanded last week that the conference, scheduled to open Oct. 31, be held by the foreign ministers of the three nations.

The sources said the United States and Britain neither would reject nor accept the proposal. Instead they would propose that the conference be opened by experts of the three nations, with the foreign ministers coming in later to endorse recommendations or trying to resolve differences.

This proposal will be sent to Moscow "within the next few days," according to the sources.

The talks, which will cover not only the suspension of tests but means of policing any agreement that may be made, are expected to last one month to six weeks.

The United States and Britain are agreed that it would be impractical to tie up their foreign ministers for so long a time, especially since technical problems are expected to take up a good deal of the discussions.

Among large industrial firms maintaining their headquarters in New York City are Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Philadelphia and Reading, Lone Star Cement and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

U.S. Standing Firm On Peace Terms In East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States stood firm Friday on its China peace terms and accused the Chinese Communists of circulating distorted reports about Warsaw negotiations on the Quemoy-Formosa crisis.

The State Department declared that this country would not bow to Red China's demand for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Formosa. It said the United States would abide by its defense commitments with the Chinese Nationalists.

Simultaneously, department press offices Lincoln White indicated that Red China had been talking extremely tough at the Warsaw conferences while professing a policy of peace and and "sweet reasonableness" in private discussions with this nation's allies.

White's statement came as U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Chinese Communist envoy Wang Pin-nan concluded their seventh meeting at Warsaw. They will meet again next Wednesday to continue their discussions of the Formosa situation.

The United States and Red China agreed before beginning the Warsaw talks that neither would disclose what took place except in a joint statement. White implied that the Chinese Communists had broken this agreement.

Pope's Novena Begins Today; Lasts 9 Days

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Novendiali consisting of nine days of the formal Vatican mourning period for Pope Pius XII will begin Saturday in the vast Basilica of the world's largest church with the pomp and ceremony of 2,000 years.

The nine days of prayers, also known as a pope's novena, will bring tens of thousands to the Basilica of St. Peter's where the Pope for 19 years and months was, in effect, the pastor.

The prayers of mourning will go on even after the body of the Pontiff is lowered in a triple nest of wood and lead coffins to a perpetually lighted crypt below and then walled up behind masonry and marble in a niche not far from the recenly-discovered tomb believed to be that of the first Pope — St. Peter.

The burial is expected to take place Monday

Some details of the final ceremonies remained to be worked out by church officials, but the general ritual is unchanged over the centuries.

One of the few breaks with tradition was the decision Friday by the cardinals in Rome to place the body in state at the foot of the main alter in the church built in part by such titans as Michaelangelo and Bernini. In the past, pontiffs have rested in state in the side chapel of the sacrament.

After the body is lowered to its final resting place, a catafalque will remain as a symbol of the dead in the basilica above until the Novendiali is ended.

The body, garbed in the white, scarlet, ermine and gold of a supreme pontiff will be exposed on an inclined bier for the millions who will pass by it until Monday. Then, most probably Monday afternoon, the rite of burial will commence.

Cardinals, relatives, distinguished guests and the diplomatic corps at the Vatican will watch the vast candle-lighted scene from special tribunes erected by carpenters.

The body, now on a simple litter, will be placed on the left side of the altar under the fantastic 95-foot high bronze canopy designed by Bernini in the 16th Century.

To the right will be three nested coffins. The outer one is of polished elm wood. The second is of lead. The third, in which the body will rest, is of sweet-scented cypress lined with red satin.

Chamberlains will lift the body into the cypress coffin as the archpriest of the Basilica intones the prayer "Sicut Cervi" — "like a deer, thus God I now present myself to Thee."

One by one, the cardinals will file from their tribune past the coffin to impart absolution.

U.S., Chinese Officials Meet On East Issue

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam conferred with Communist Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan Friday with orders from Washington to press for an indefinite extension of the Communist unilateral Formosa Strait ceasefire due to expire at midnight Sunday.

The ambassadors met for two and a half hours in Mysliewicki Palace, but would not comment afterward on what subjects had been discussed. They scheduled another meeting for next Wednesday.

Friday's peace talks were the first between the two ambassadors since the Reds proclaimed their ceasefire last Monday. It was the seventh meeting since the talks on the Far East crisis began Sept. 15

The State Department in Washington said Beam had been instructed to impress upon Wang that the United States hoped for a continuation of the ceasefire in the Formosa Strait. The United States has been aiming at a truce in the talks so that further negotiations can be started on the future status of the Quemoy and Matsu offshore islands.

CAB Board Begins Probe Of Incident

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Civil Aeronautics Board began an investigation Friday to learn why a giant jet airliner skimmed so low over this airport community that hundreds of residents hurried from their homes to see what had happened.

Police were advised that the control tower at Los Angeles International Airport cautioned the Boeing 707 jet airliner—on a routine test flight—about the low approach, and that the aircraft then pulled up sharply.

The plane landed safely several minutes after the incident Thursday night.

There were no injuries, but officers said two pieces of a breaking flap from a wing of the plane crashed to earth as the airliner accelarated rapidly, with one fragment striking a parked automobile. Another fell into the front yard of an apartment house.

Two Lawsuits For Damages Are Recorded

Two lawsuits totalling $52,161.15 have been filed with the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court. One involves a two-car crash on a smoke-obscured highway, the other is against a Ouachita Parish school bus driver.

Don K. Lanier and his wife, Mrs. Peggy Yvonne Lanier of Plaquemine Parish are suing the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., State Farm Mutual Auto Insurance Co. and Delma M. Harrell of Beckley, W. Va., for $47,660.65.

Lanier states that he, his wife, and their two young daughters, Sharon Ann and Kathy Lynn were injured, with Mrs. Lanier suffering permanent disfigurement, in a wreck six miles south of Monroe, on route 165 near Fondale.

He claims that the Missouri-Pacific started a fire to clear weeds from next to the track, the fire became uncontrollable and spread, heavy smoke obstructed the view on the nearby highway and he rammed the back of a car which stopped on the highway in the smoke.

Driver of the other vehicle was Miss Harrell.

Lanier adds that the State Farm insurance adjustor told him and his wife that they were not entitled to any money, but if they would sign a paper, State Farm would pay the balance of their medical expenses.

The suit states that they signed it without reading it, and that they actually signed a release from legal liability.

They ask a trial by jury.

In the other case, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sears, 105 Dooley Lane, Monroe, ask $4500.50 from General Accident Fire and Assurance Corp. Ltd and Mrs. S. R. Andes.

Mrs. Virgie Sears charges that on Oct. 29, 1957 one of her two young daughters who were riding Ouachita Parish School Bus No. 53 driven by Mrs. S. R. Andes asked Mrs. Andes to stop at the Sears home, so Mrs. Sears could speak with her.

The suit states that Mrs. Andes, of 414 Clayton St., West Monroe, replied that "if her mother was outside she would drive the bus over her."

It continues that Mrs. Andes stopped at a driveway next to the Sears home, blew the horn. Mrs. Sears walked to the bus and talked with Mrs. Andes.

Mrs Sears then states that Mrs. Andes "suddenly and without warning recklessly closed the door of the school bus, trapping your petitioner by the arm and shoulder and drove the school bus forward dragging your petitioner across her neighbor's driveway.

It states that Mrs. Sears was injured and suffered a misiarriage as a result of the incident.

Career Diplomat Is Appointed As U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday appointed career diplomat Lampton Berry of Columbia, Miss., to be U.S. ambassador to Ceylon.

The 50-year-old Berry will succeed Maxwell H. Gluck, who resigned. At present Berry is deputy assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs.

He has held diplomatic assignments in Capetown, South Africa and New Delhi and Calcutta, India. But this is his first ambassadorial assignment. The appointment is subject to Senate approval when Congress convenes in January.

Former Defense Secretary Talks At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Former Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson called it "poppycock" Friday to believe that the first nation that gets a space ship will rule the world.

He also described as "foolishness" any American anxiety over the Russian launching of the first Sputnik.

Wilson, here to address Centenary College's 50th anniversary celebration, made his remarks at a news conference.

He declared further that he does not believe any nation has ability to rule the world.

Russia's alleged superiority in missiles, Wilson added, must be viewed in the light that "ballistic missiles are a one-shot business and their accuracy is yet to be demonstrated."

Wilson concluded that the Russians got ahead on rocket engines after World War Two because they continued in the missile business while the United States concentrated on building up strategic air command.

And landing on the moon, as predicted within the next 20 years, Wilson said could be of no great importance and could lead to the loss of many lives in exploration attempts.

Looking ahead Wilson said the United States must be strong militarily but that "an arms race will not establish peace."

New Building Of Hardware Co. To Open

The Maxwell Hardware Company, 2713 North 7th Street, West Monroe, will observe the formal opening of its new building today.

The new building located beside the store's former quarters, contains 5000 square feet of display space, and is completely air conditioned.

Gene C. Goad, manager and one of the owners of the company, said, "Although our former building was new when the Maxwell Hardware Company first occupied it, we felt that to expand and provide the kind of business we wanted, we needed a new building that would be in keeping with the demands of the future as well as the present."

Accordingly, "he explained, "we erected a building of which we are extremely proud and which we believe is an asset to the entire West Monroe area."

Goad became manager of the company in 1955, and is the son-in-law of F. E. Maxwell, founder of the company. He and his wife live with their two children on Belmont Drive in West Monroe.

Maxwell, founded the company in 1953. He is a prominent business man and is the director of the First National Bank of West Monroe and the First National Bank of Delhi. Maxwell is president of the Highland Park Country Club and one of its leading organizers.

Goad said, "We invite the public to come out and inspect our new store. To celebrate the opening we are offering prices which are marked down tremendously, and we hope our friends and customers will take advantage of them."

Paleface Bandits Escape With $679 In N.O. Robbery

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two paleface bandits Friday held up the Automotive Finance Company on Canal Street here and escaped with $679.

Police said one of the young robbers, well-dressed and curly-haired but walking with a limp, forced Jeff Ferguson, 24-year-old assistant credit manager, to put the money in a bag and fled.

His dungaree-clad companion, acted as a lookout at the entrance.

While the hold-up was in progress Mrs. O. E. Haring, wife of the owner, walked in past the two men.

The hold-up man turned to her and said, "Good morning, young lady."

Mrs. Haring said when she reached her desk she realized a holdup was going on but was afraid to try to call the police until the men left.

A witness later told officers he saw the men jump into a 1950 model car bearing an Oregon license plate.

Helium, the second lightest element, is inert, odorless, colorless and tasteless but not completely weightless.

Judge Denies Withdrawal Try In Rape Trial

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — Circuit Judge Lansord Casey Friday denied efforts by court-appointed defense attorney Ronald Brown to withdraw from the rape trial of Theldor Lang, 35-year-old Laurel Negro who goes on trial for his life Monday.

Brown sought to withdraw on grounds that the court was without authority in the appointment because Lang had employed counsel. He also said he had represented the white rape victim's husband in a lawsuit some time ago and would have a conflict of interest.

Brown was appointed to aid defense attorney Jeff Collins.

Casey held the appointment was made with proper authority and that there would be no conflict of interest.

Lang was convicted in the 1954 rape and sentenced to life imprisonment. The State Supreme Court upheld the conviction.

Later, however, another Laurel white woman was raped and several weeks later Leroy Moody, 26-year-old Negro, was arrested and admitted the 1955 rape, but denied the 1954 crime. He pleaded guilty to the 1955 rape and got life imprisonment.

Moody's fingerprints were found on a windowsill at the home of the early rape victim and her ring was found in possession of Moody's wife, police said.

With the new evidence, the Supreme Court set aside the conviction of Lang and ordered a new trial.

Atomic Energy Commission Explodes Shot

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission exploded a small nuclear test shot atop a 100-foot tower on Friday to make "certain diagnostic observations" of atomic blasts from a stationary platform.

A fierce fireball accompanied the explosion. The tower tumbled awkwardly, then disintegrated in the midst of a dust cloud that rose from the desert floor.

For the first time in the current series, a mushroom - shaped cloud boiled up from the explosion site. It rose in a dirty-looking black spiral that turned gray at about 4,000 feet.

The test, nicknamed "Quay" for a New Mexico county near Los Alamos, was the fourth full-scale shot of the final series before the proposed Oct. 31 international ban. It was the first tower shot on American soil this year.

The blast, which had the force of less than 1,000 tons of TNT, went off at 6:30 a.m. PST (10:30 a.m. EDT, after a 15-minute delay because of a southerly wind. Observers in the fall-out path were evacuated five minutes after the explosion.

Pope's Will Is Published In Newspaper

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Pius XII's brief and humble last will and testament, published Friday asked the world to overlook any personal shortcomings and begged the forgiveness of anyone he might have "offended."

The will, dated May 15, 1956, left all his possessions to the church and asked that no monuments be raised to his memory. He said he wanted obscurity in death.

The document was published in the semi-official Vatican City newspaper Osservtore Romano and opened with the words in Latin: "Miserere mei, deus, secundum (magnam) misericordiam Tuam" (Have mercy on me, oh Lord, accordig to Thy great mercy.) It continued:

"These words which I, knowing myself to be unworthy and inadequate, pronounced when I accepted with trepidation my election as supreme pontiff, I now repeat with much greater justification since the realization of the deficiences, shortcomings and mistakes, committed during such a long pontificate and in such a grave era has made my shortcomings and unworthiness clearer to my mind.

"I humbly ask pardon of all those I may have ofended, harmed or scandalized with my words and works. I beg those with whom the matter rests not to busy themselves or to worry about erecting any monument to my memory. It is enough that my poor mortal remains be laid to rest simply in a sacred lake which will be the more gratifying (to me) the more it is obscure.

"I do not need to ask for prayers for my soul. I know how numerous are those prayers which the usual stipulations of the Apostolic See and the piety of the faithful offer for every dead pope.

"I do not even need to leave a 'spiritual testimony' as so many zealous prelates are laudably wont to do, because the many documents and speeches uttered by me in connection with the requirements of my office are sufficient to make known, to all those who perchance may wish to know, my thoughts on various religious and moral questions.

"Having said this, I name as my universal heir the holy Apostolic See, from which I received so much, as if from a very loving mother.

"15 May, 1956.

"(Signed) Pius PP XII."

Police Announce New 'Get Tough' Policy At B.R.

BATON ROUGE (AP) — City police Friday announced a "get tough" policy after a series of gang fights between students at two Negro schools.

A 17-year-old Negro youth, Earl L. Jackson, was sentenced to 10 days in jail Friday after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct in the stoning of a school bus Tuesday near McKinley High School.

A companion, Albert Comager Jr., 19, pleaded innocent and his trial was set Oct. 20.

Police Chief Shirley S. Arrighi said several hundred pupils from McKinley and Capitol Ave. high schools were involved in the series of incidents, which included retaliatory raids for the stoning of the school bus.

In all, police have picked up 18 juveniles and four 17 and 18-year-old boys in the various fights.

Arrighi said the incidents were becoming serious and ordered his juvenile division to break up any further demonstrations "before the situation gets out of hand."

Three To Seek Reinstatement At University

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three of four white students who were suspended two days ago by Louisiana State University in New Orleans declared at Radio Station WNOE Friday that they would seek reinstatement.

The youths, who identified themselves as Gordon Novell, 21; A. Roswell Thompson Jr., 20 and Bob Holmes, 19, said they would go to Baton Rouge Saturday morning to talk with President Troy Middleton of LSU.

They said they would seek to have authorities look into the action of the disciplinary board wh gave no reason for their suspension.

LSUNO also declined to say whether the suspensions had any connection with integration incidents at the lakefront branch in New Orleans where more than 50 Negro students were enrolled.

If they failed to get to see Pres. Middleton, the students said, they would call on Governor Earl Long.

The suspended students also, appearing on a WNOE newscast, said they intended to discuss their case with Rep. Hebert (R-La) and Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

Parents of the fourth suspended student said they would not seek to have their son returned to the school.

Mack Is Given Deadline For Arraignment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge Friday gave former FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack until Nov. 7 to appear for arraignment on charges he conspired with lawyer Thurman A. Whiteside to influence award of Miami Television Channel 10.

Mack originally was scheduled to be arraigned last Friday. But his attorneys asked for a month's delay to give him time to recover from injuries suffered in a fall at Miami. The case was continued for a week to let government attorneys check Mack's condition.

Robert J. Rosthal, justice Department attorney, told Federal Judge John J. Sirica Friday the government learned Mack could be available for arraignment in two to four weeks. Rosthal said the government had no objection to the 30-day delay. Sirica ordered Mack to appear Nov. 7.

Whiteside pleaded innocent last week to charges that he gave Mack money and other things of value in return for his support in the 4 to 2 FCC vote that warded the Miami channel to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

The charges were an outgrowth of hearings held by the House Influence Investigating Subcommittee.

Mourning Urged For Pope Pius

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Knights of Columbus were urged Friday to observe official mourning on the death of Pope Pius XII.

State Deputy of the K. of C. Tanos Joseph of Franklin asked the state's 22,000 Knights to give memorial tribute to the Pope in annual Columbus Day celebrations Sunday.

Joseph said it was with the blessing and close cooperation of Pius XII that the Knight of Columbus were able to complete their project of micro-filming archives of the Vatican Library for use by scholars of the Western Hemisphere at the Library of St. Louis University in Missouri.

RELIC

VERGENNES, Vt. (UPI) — Nine - year-old Matthew Daniels Jr. recently found a four-pound cannonball in his backyard. The ball is thought by experts to be a relic of the battle in which British forces were defeated at Plattsburgh, N.Y., 144 years ago.

Only the women of Norway have a lower mortality rate than those of the United States.

HOMECOMING

Neville Takes 2-AA Title By Beating Ruston, 26-12

By SAM HANNA

Neville's determined Tigers, a sassy club that apparently doesn't read its press clippings, dogged Ruston for a 26-12 upset victory here last night before a hooping homecoming crowd.

It was a big, well-earned Neville win that . . .

—Made the Tigers 1958 2-AA champions.

—Gave Coach Bill Ruple sweet revenge over rival Coach Hoss Garrett whose Bearcats beat the Tigers last year, 20-7, for the district championship.

—Kept the Tigers' district record clean with three wins and no defeats.

Not only that, it gave the Tigers a 3-2 over-all record for the season and was Ruston's second setback against four consecutive wins.

STATISTICS

The Tigers chopped down a tough, deceptive Bearcat eleven that scored in the opening minutes of the fray and again as the final hand ticked away.

Meanwhile, Neville was scoring twice in the second period, once in the third and twice again in the finale.

Neville's win was highlighted by the shining runs of halfback Joe Cage who pranced about the gridiron as if he were a Tiger just let out of one.

Cage rolled up a total night's work of 144 yards gained on the ground and capped off his sparkling performance with a 60-yard touchdown run and two extra point conversions.

But he was not alone in sharing the spotlight, for Ruston's Pat Shows, a 150-pound halfback, passed for one touchdown and ran for another.

The Bearcats, with Shows handling most of the aerial work, threw 18 passes, completing 10 for 136 yards.

Shows threw to quarterback Ken Anderson for the opening touchdown and then second up his team's second and last score with a fine 60-yard run before carrying into the end zone from the one.

In the meantime, Neville came back behind a scrappy line that fought the bigger Bearcat forward wall from start to finish.

Halfback Devone Payne, whose late father, the senior Coach Devone Payne, was paid tribute to at Northeast earlier in the day, scored two touchdowns himself.

Payne scored Neville's first touchdown in the second period before Cage broke away on his long thriller that enabled the Tigers to lead at halftime, 13-6.

Neville returned in the third period, pulled a sly handoff that shot Neal Gunn free for a 55-yard touchdown sprint. Later in the fourth period a sustained Tiger drive led by Cage, Payne, Joe Turner and the limping Gene Howard took the Bengals to Ruston's one.

From there Payne plunged into the end zone for the score.

The game was a hard played one and several times Neville sent a crippled Tiger to the sideline. The Bearcats weren't easily put down.

The Tigers turned what appeared at moments to be a disastrous first half into a happy one for the homecoming rooters, coming from behind to command a 13-6 lead.

But it didn't take Shows long to locate leaks in the Bengals' secondary and he passed the Bearcats to their first quarter touchdown.

Following a Neville punt, Ruston took over on their own 30. Shows took to the air.

He threw to rangy Charles Hinton, Anderson and end Charles Hebert before dropping back from the five and tossing to Anderson again, this time good for the touchdown. The kick was no good.

With Cage, Turner and Payne pounding away, the Tigers started rolling from deep in their own territory. A pass from Turner to Cage carried 20 yards and essentially set up the score.

Payne drove to the 20 at the dawn of the second period and then Turner slipped off to the right side on a trick play that sent him to the five. Then the 150-pound Payne bulled across for the touchdown.

Neville's kick too was no good.

Shows came back to bring Ruston knocking on the Tiger door, got off a 30-yard pass play to Hinton and then carried the ball himself to the 10.

A clipping penalty sent Ruston back 15 yards, but the Bearcats returned to threaten again. It was at this point that reserve back Rusty Campbell broke up the drive with an interceptions of Shows' pass.

The fans had no more than settled back after the threat when Cage broke off the left side, shook free at the 50 and outran the Bearcat secondary down the sidelines to paydirt.

Then he kicked the extra point to put the Tigers out in front at halftime, 13-6.

Prior to the game, Miss Joan Williams was kissed and crowned homecoming queen by Neville alumni president Sidney Gill.

Herbert Gathright's full-sounding Tiger band and the snappy Tigerettes provided a background stage for the queen and her court.

Miss Linda Lou Roberson was Miss Williams' maid of honor and the court consisted of Misses Connie Wheeler, Carolyn Cordell and Pat Hand.

Wofford Beats Citadel, 18-6, In 4th Period

ORANGEBURG, S. C. (AP) — Wofford exploded with two long scoring plays in the final period Friday for an 18-6 football victory over Citadel of the Southern Conference.

A sweltering county fair crowd of 10,000 watched halfback Gary Whitlock race 59 yards for the winning touchdown.

Little All - America quarterback Charlie Bradshaw passed 19 and 48 yards to end Jerry Richardson for the game's first and final touchdowns.

The Citadel gained a brief fourth period tie on halfback Bob Daugherty's nine-yard scoring dash.

Wofford went for a two - point conversion after each touchdown and each fell flat. The Citadel, when it tied the game, tried for a one-point placekick but it was wide.

Wofford	0	6	0	12	—18
Citadel	0	0	0	0	— 6

Boyd Defeats Beecham In 10-Rounder

CHICAGO (UPI)—Middleweight Bobby Boyd avenged his defeat by Jimmy Beecham Friday night with a unanimous 10-round decision over the Miami Beach battler in the Friday night television fight.

Boyd, who weighed 160 pounds to 159½ for Beecham, lost their last meeting at Miami Aug. 27 in Boyds' last fight. Friday night's win ended Beecham's winning streak at three fights.

The taller and more experienced Boyd took advantage of his height and reach to keep away from Beecham's jabs most of the time and he amassed points himself with sharp left jabs and right crosses.

Beecham directed his attack to the body, but couldn't land frequently enough to slow Boyd down. Judge Harold Marovitz and the UPI card gave Boyd a 49-45 edge, referee Bernie Weissmann scored 48-46 for Boyd, and Judge Frank Clarke had it 48-44 for the winner.

It was Boyd's 50th victory in 63 pro fights and the eighth loss for Beecham in 33. Neither fighter was in trouble during the scrap, although Boyd appeared to be weakening in the last round.

Boyd piled up his edge in the early rounds. Beecham began to connect more often from the sixth round on and he blocked many of Boyd's punches.

The defeat probably will drop Beecham out of the Natonal Boxing Association top ten ranked middleweights, but Boyd was not expected to move into the group. Boyd has been ranked frequently but has not been a high rated contender since he suffered a broken jaw more than two years ago in a bout with Joe Giardello. Beecham a former welterweight, was rated ninth prior to Friday night's match.

CARTER TO CROWE

Lions Down Haynesville, 9-7, On Last Period Pass

By JIM CALHOUN

A bullet pass from quarterback Rex Carter to end Tommy Crowe in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter gave the Ouachita Lions a 9-7 victory over Haynesville's Golden Tornado at Ouachita Stadium last night to the delight of a sparse homecoming crowd.

The two elevens appeared evenly matched and the game seesawed back and forth for three quarters, with Haynesville hanging on to a 7-2 lead until Carter's scoring pass in the fourth.

The Lions struck early in the initial period for a two-point safety. Carter got off a fine punt from the Tornado thirty-eight and guard Carl Fletcher downed the rolling pigskin on the two yard line. On first down Haynesville halfback Jerry Hines, attempting to circle right end was swarmed over in the end zone for the safety.

A Lion miscue late in the second period led to the lone Haynesville touchdown. With Carter standing on his own thirty on a fourth down punt attempt, the ball was centered over his head. Carter recovered the ball on his 20 but the Golden Tornado took over on downs. Joe Knox, Billy Appling, and Hines alternated to carry the ball to the Lion 4. On third down Hines bulled over center for the six-pointer. Fullback Larry Thomas split the uprights to give Haynesville a temporary 7-2 lead.

On the final play of the first half Haynesville's Barry Owens had a 62 yard dash nullified because of a penalty. Owens faded from his 38 to pass, elected to run, and dashed all the way down the left sideline to the end zone. But the Tornado were ruled offside just as the half ended.

The Lions scored their winning touchdown in a comedy of errors. Ouachita started a drive from their own 29 midway in the fourth quarter. The running of halfback Jim Simmons and fullback Woody Mahoney combined with the passing of Carter to Crowe to advance the ball deep in Haynesville territory. With third down on the Tornado one yard line the Lions fumbled and Haynesville recovered on the five.

Three plays later Haynesville fumbled on the nine and Ouachita took over. Ouachita lost six on a mixup of signals and after one crack at the line, Carter hit Crowe in the end zone for the winning touchdown. Carter then threw to end John Talley for the extra point.

Outstanding defensively for Ouachita were Fletcher, tackle Harold Moore, and guard Sonny Panzico. Barry Tinsley, Haynesville center, did a fine job at the linebacking post and Wayne Kilpatrick and Joe Maddox held down the forward wall.

Shoots For Nashua Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—Travis Kerr's Round Table takes another shot at Nashua's all-time money-winning championship Saturday when he goes after the big prize in the $100,000 added Hawthorne Gold Cup Handicap.

Carrying a relatively light impost of 126, the 4-year-old colt will face six others in the 1¼ mile race.

Round Table needs to earn $25,452 to break Nashua's record of $1,288,565. He must come in first and take first prize to top the all time list because second - place money of $25,000 will leave him shy. If all seven start, the race will be worth $124,850 with the winner taking $74,250.

Dangerous Dan Neumann, one of Louisiana's better prep backs, appeared to be his old self, shook off his ailments and helped spark the local drive.

But it was halfback Wayne Noland who really turned in the night's sparkling performance with three long touchdown runs—one an 80-yard kickoff return.

TILT RATED TOSS-UP

Army - Notre Dame Game Tops College Grid Slate

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Army vs. Notre Dame, the only football rivalry to match Army-Navy in national interest, color and thrills, is renewed as the top attraction on Saturday's college schedule.

The teams play the last in the two-game series—the original series was discontinued in 1947 after 34 consecutive years—and only the second time ever at South Bend, home of the Irish.

There is little to choose between the two. Army tops the nation in offense with its "lonesome end" and "bazooka" formations, while Notre Dame has a powerful multiple offense, and an iron-clad defense.

The Cadets are third ranked in the nation, the Irish No. 4 in The Associated Press poll. Army still is smarting from last year's 23-21 upset in Philadelphia on Monte Sickles fourth-quarter field goal.

No. 2 Oklahoma meets No. 16 Texas in the Southwest's top game of the day, and the renewal of another fierce rivalry. The Sooners still are getting over a 6-0 scrape in defeating Oregon last week. Texas is undefeated in three games.

Top-ranked Auburn faces a sleeper in Southeastern Conference rival Kentucky. The Wildcats have a 2-1 record but have an explosive-type offense that will put Shug Jordan's great defense to a real test.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State faces Big Ten opponent Illinois in the national television game of the day (NBC-TV, 2 h.m. EST). The Bucks just beat Washington 12-7 last week while the Illini were surprised by Duke 15-13.

Wisconsin and Purdue, Nos. 6 and 13 respectively, meet in a Big Ten battle that could be the most evenly matched game of the day. Both are unscored on in winning their first two games, with the Badgers ringing up 70 points, the Boilermakers 52.

Mississippi, seventh ranked, takes on Tulane in a Southeast Conference game. The Rebels are hard put this season to maintain their ranking, with two first stringers gone because of injury and three on the doubtful list.

Eighth-ranked Clemson puts its multiple-T offense to a test against Vanderbilt, while Michigan State (No. 9) meets 10th-ranked Pitt. The Panthers will try to solve State's multiple offense with a line that has smothered three opponents.

Navy puts it's 12th-ranking on the line against Michigan, which held Michigan State to a 12-12 tie last week. The Wolverines, No. 14 used two different attacks in two weeks, while Navy is countering with the passing of Joe Tranchini, and must play without tackle Bob Reifsnyder and back Joe Bellino, out with injuries.

Oregon, No. 15, stacks the defense that almost stopped Oklahoma last week, against Southern California in a Pacific Coast Conference game. Iowa, No. 17, still a bit surprised by that 13-13 tie with the Air Force Academy, meets Indiana, a 13-12 conqueror of West Virginia last Saturday.

Quarterback and superb passer Don Meredith is a doubtful quantity as 18th-ranked Southern Methodist meets Missouri. Meredith was on crutches all week after being injured against Notre Dame.

In the East Holy Cross-Dartmouth and Marquette at Penn State tops a card, which also sees a pair of Ivy League games. Georgia Tech-Tennessee meet in the Southeast Conference, while North Carolina State-Wake Forest top the Atlantic Coast Conference card.

Baylor comes from the Southwest to play Duke, while neighbor Texas A&M journey's to Maryland in other top games.

Texas Christian-Texas Tech and Rice-Arkansas top the Southwest, with the Air Force Academy at Colorado State, Oregon State at Wyoming and Stanford playing host to Washington in the Far West.

AFTERNOON GAME

Tech Goes South For SLI Contest

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs journey south this week end to engage the Southwestern Louisiana Institute Canine outfit which seldom turns out to be cousins to the Tech breed.

Tech will lay its 1-0 Gulf States conference mark on the line in the 2 p.m., contest with SLI, which is winless in three games.

Northeast State romped over the SLI eleven 29-8 last Saturday in Lafayette. SLI, with a new coach, has installed a multiple offense which has not clicked too well as yet.

SLI has scored only eight points in three games, but held Southeastern to a 14-6 score and Sam Houston State, which beat McNeese 12-6, to a 6-0 game.

Tech developed an offensive punch in the McNeese game, scoring a 17-0 upset of the Cowboy eleven which only the week before had dumped Northwestern State 25-8.

Jim Orton and Jim McCabe directed the Tech wing-T attack brilliantly, with Orton eating up yardage on the keeper play and McCabe aerials carrying Tech to one TD.

Jack Howard came into his own at left halfback, playing a good defensive game, averaging 46 3 yards on three kicks, intercepting one pass and gaining 64 yards on running plays.

He and Paul Hynes carried the brunt of the Tech running attack, with Hynes galloping for over 70 yards and catching one pass for 26 yards which carried to the McNeese 3-yard line.

It was impossible to single out individuals in the Tech forward wall, which held McNeese to 70 yards rushing and did not permit a pass completion.

Grambling In Scrap With Tenn. State

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — The Grambling Tigers were busy Friday anchoring themselves for Saturday's head-on duel with unbeaten Tennessee State University.

The two elevens will collide at Grambling before a sell - out crowd of 12,000, largest home - crowd in the school's history.

The whole campus at Grambling is suffering from a severe case of football intrigue.

Tennessee has been established as a solid 10-point favorite by the boys who handle odds and point-spreads. However, they might not have a solid argument.

Grambling is physically set to show up the other side. The Tigers will be hitching their victory hopes to the broad shoulders of Jamie Caleb, Don Stephenson, Bill Ellis and Preston Powell.

The kick-off is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Cruse Lost To Winnsboro With Fractured Jaw

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Winnsboro's 63-6 victory over parish rival Crowville Thursday night proved costly as 180-pound George Cruse suffered a fractured jaw and joined the growing Winnsboro injured list.

Cruse is slated to go to Monroe today for treatment. He's expected to be out of action for several weeks. Cruse has carried the load on power plays for Coach Phillip Poole's Wildcats and had been named player of the week twice.

Cruse joins sophomore quarterback Joe Henry and 190-pound tackle Billy Wilson on the sidelines. Henry suffered a broken jaw in practice earlier this fall and is out for the season. Wilson, a Wildcat co-captain, has been ill for the past two weeks and is currently in a New Orleans hospital for examination.

SCORE IN EVERY PERIOD

LSU's Mighty Tigers Shock Hurricane, 41-0

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Louisiana State's speedy backs scored in every period Friday night as the Tigers swamped the University of Miami 41-0 before 40,614 football fans in the Orange Bowl.

It was Miami's worst defeat in 14 years and it stamped the Tigers as one of the Southeastern Conference's powerhouses.

LSU rolled to its fourth straight triumph, adding three touchdowns in the final quarter to complete the rout.

LSU needed 11 minutes and 11 seconds to score the first touchdown after Miami had moved into Tiger territory twice but couldn't get close to the goal.

Don Purvis' 51-year gallop produced the first touchdown. The 160-pound halfback from Crystal Springs, Miss., found a gaping hole inside Miami's right end and had clear sailing for the final 30 yards.

Billy Cannon, 197-pound halfback from Baton Rouge and LSU's candidate for All-America honors, hit right end for 10 after LSU recovered a Miami fumble on the 27. Tommy Davis lost a yard but Cannon picked up three and Warren Rabb passed 15 yards to Billy Hendrix for another touchdown to make the score 13-0 at the half.

LSU scored again in the third going 48 yards in seven plays. J. W. Brodnax carried over from the 3 and Rabb's pass to Mickey Mangham added two points to make it 21-0.

The Tigers struck for three touchdowns in the final period, going for 16, 22 and 50 yards for touchdowns.

Miami's pony backfield, led by 148-pound Fran Curci drove deep into LSU territory time after time and once went to the 5. The alert Tigers frustrated every threat and dominated play after halftime.

It was Miami's worst defeat since 1944 when Texas A&M whipped the Hurricanes by a 70-14 score.

Rumor Layne Traded Over Player Rift

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Times said Friday that the Detroit Lions traded star quarterback Bobby Layne to the Pittsburgh Steelers to end a growing rift between Detroit players and coaches.

The Times said a "smouldering feud" between Coach George Wilson and Layne was beginning to break into the open. It said that Layne objected to Wilson's practice of sending in plays from the bench.

The Lions denied reports of dissension when the trade was announced suddenly last Monday following a 13-13 tie at Green Bay against the Packers.

The club's official explanation is that Wilson found it too difficult to run the club with two first string quarterbacks—Layne and Tobin Rote.

He kept Rote and obtained Earl Morrall from the Steelers in the trade.

RIDICULES RUMORS

Stengel To Sign Pact Next Week

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Casey Stengel will sign a new two-year contract, containing "a nice boost," next week and then take prompt steps toward defending the Yankees' world championship in 1959 by trying to swing a deal for another front-line pitcher.

Stengel and Yankee officials both ridiculed a story by a local paper that there was dissension between the two and the 68-year-old manager might quit.

"That's just plain rubbish," Stengel snorted. "There's too much work to be done for me to think about quitting."

General Manager George Weiss said he wouldn't even dignify the story with a denial.

Weiss said, however, that he and Stengel will get together "either Monday or Tuesday" for the purpose of discussing 'a number of things."

One of those things will be a new contract for Stengel and from another source it was learned that the Yankees are ready to show their appreciation for the winning of his seventh world championship in the form of a substantial pay boost. His present contract, which runs out this year, calls for an estimated $75,000 plus a bonus provision.

Next order of business after Stengel's signing will be a possible trade with either the Baltimore Orioles or Washington Senators.

"We're ready to deal," Weiss said, "and there is a good chance we'll make some this winter."

The Yankees are known to be after southpaw Billy O'Dell, who had a 14-11 record for the Orioles this season and won raves from Stengel with his brilliant showing against the National League in the All-Star game last July.

O'Dell, only 25, won't come cheaply, however. He is the ace of Paul Richards' staff and the Baltimore boss insists he would consider only front-line talent in exchange for his curve - balling left-hander.

Richards would take infielder Gil McDougald even up but the Yankees aren't eager about that one. They may offer him either Tony Kubek or Jerry Lumpe along with a pitcher of Johnny Kucks' caliber.

The Yankees chief interest among the Senators are pitchers Pedro Ramos and Dick Hyde and naturally, outfielder Roy Sievers, if they can possibly get him.

Washington, which lost its last 13 games and finished last, is in a position where it is practically forced to deal. Up to now, the Senators have steadfastly refused to talk trade about Sievers, their No. 1 man at the box office, but he may go this winter if the tail-enders feel they might improve themselves in the process.

Porkers Take On Baylor In SWC Contest

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas, still looking for its first victory and beset with injuries to key linemen, meets Rice here Saturday in a Southwest Conference game.

It's the league opener for the Owls, 1957 champions. Arkansas has been beaten by Baylor and Texas Christian in two conference starts.

The Razorbacks approach the game with optimism engendered from last week's fine showing against TCU, the sportswriters' pick to take the 1958 crown.

The Porkers are woefully thin in the line, however, and Billy Michael, starting tackle and co-captain, definitely is on the shelf with a virus infection. Paul Henderson, another top tackle, is a doubtful starter because of a foot ailment.

Rice, stripped of most of the stars of last year's late rush to the title, presents a solid attack bolstered by the sensational pass-catching of end Buddy Dial.

Partly cloudy skies and crisp temperatures are forecast for the 2 p.m., kickoff.

LATE COACH

Tribute Paid To Payne At College

Tribute was paid to the late Devone Payne by Arnold R. Kilpatrick, former Northeast athletic director, and grid co-captain Everett Reynolds as Northeast accepted a portrait of the former Northeast football coach in ceremonies yesterday in the college's Brown Hall.

Kilpatrick lauded Payne as a fine leader, father and coach, calling attention to his "indomitable spirit" that kept him at his job until a few days before his death.

Reynolds, who played under Payne, paid tribute to Payne as a builder of character as well as athletic coach.

Kilpatrick announced the presentation of a certificate from the Pop Warner Foundation to Payne, given to him after his death from the sports organization. A telegram sent before Foundation officials had learned of Payne's death asked the late coach to serve on the Warner committee in Louisiana.

Payne's widow, Mrs. Delores Payne, and her four sons presented a portrait of Payne to the school as well as framed copy of "The Sportsman's Prayer." Mrs. Payne also announced that she would sponsor a "Payne Memorial Trophy" to be awarded each year to a Northeast football player who demonstrates outstanding sportsmanship and determination.

President George T. Walker accepted the portrait and prayer on behalf of the college. The two gifts will be hung in the Northeast Student Center.

Britain Routed In Amateur Tourney

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —New Zeland, the United States and Australia—three nations who imported golf from the Scottish spawning ground—routed old Britain out of first place Friday in the World Amateur Championship.

The Old Course of St. Andrews finally calmed down, making weather and playing conditions more like home for the four-man teams from Down Under and America, and scores improved with the weather.

The New Zeland team threw the hardest block. Bob Charles shot a 76. John Durry, 22-year-old golf club maker, shot a 77. Ed MacDougall had a 72 and Stewart Jones an 80.

Only the three best scores each day for each team are counted in this brand new competition for the big Eisenhower Trophy and this left the New Zealanders with 225 strokes for the day and a 54-hole aggregate of 687.

The United States, also with a three -man best score of 225, moved into second place with a [illegible] total. Australia, postponed a 221 for Friday's third round, edged into a third place tie with Britain at 691. The British scored 230 Friday.

The best round of the tournament, a 71 by Peter Toogood of Hobart, Tasmania, helped the Australians to the best score of the day. It was the first time any player in the field of 114 had whipped par on the 6,936-yard, par 36-36—72 links by the North Sea.

The best of the Americans was tall, greying Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, who got the first eagle of the week on the third hole and finished up with 37-36—73.

The other three—U. S. Amateur champion Charles Coe of Oklahoma City, Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., and Dr. Frank Taylor of Pomona, Calif., all had 76s.

For all but Coe it was the best round of the tournament. Coe had a 74 on the windswept first round. Friday he had putting trouble on the front nine and came in with 40-36—76. Patton posted the same score, shooting pars on the last 12 holes, and Taylor, getting used to the clubs that had been lost enroute to Scotland, shot 39-37—76.

The American team now has cut the margin of the leaders in half since the first day. It was six strokes behind Britain after the first round, four back after the second and now trails by only three.

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny O'Connell, second baseman for the San Francisco Giants, has been added to Willie Mays' all - star team of National League players who will meet Mickey Mantle's American stars Sunday at Yankee Stadium in an exhibition game.

Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox and Bob Friend of Pittsburgh will be the opposing pitchers.

'Frisco Stadium Slated To Open By Labor Day

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The new 45,000-seat baseball stadium for the San Francisco Giants probably won't be ready for use until next Labor Day, the stadium architect estimates.

The architect, John Bolles, was a witness Thursday night before the grand jury investigating contracts under which the National League club moved from New York to San Francisco.

Bolles' estimate indicated nearly all the Giants' home games next year would have to be played in the 21,000-seat Seals Stadium the same as this year. Earlier opening of the new stadium had been expected.

Miss. Farming Gets Big Boost

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Farming got its annual big boost here this week.

The boost came from the Mississippi State Fair, where products of the farm and farm home went on exhibition and the farm people competed for prizes and recognition.

The displays and judging are an impressive sight to city visitors at the sprawling fairgrounds, and they remind the city folk how dependent Mississippi is on agriculture.

They also inspire the farm youth, both those who compete and those who don't.

There is no doubt that the fair has helped show Mississippi farmers what can be done in the field and farm home and that it has spurred many on to improved practices and greater financial success.

One little city boy, whose contact with cattle apparently was limited to the scrubbier open-range stock seen along the highways, saw the big Aberdeen-Angus bulls being led to the judging.

"Boy," he told his mother, "that cow's as big as an elephant almost."

Probably the greatest benefit of the fair comes from the recognition it gives farm youth for their efforts in 4-H Club and FFA work.

The two organizations, which do much to show that farming offers the youth a future, bring the best products to the attention of the public and help encourage those young club members who haven't been as successful.

One of the more impressive exhibits at the fair was shown by the state prison farm at Parchman. The exhibit, which included a scale model of the sprawling prison, listed the products grown there.

Community Concerts Drive Closes Tonight

The Community Concert Association's membership drive closes at five o'clock this afternoon. The membership in the association will close for the year at that time and the program of concerts for the coming season will be arranged.

An announcement from the organization's campaign headquarters in the Frances Hotel here yesterday stated three attractions were already scheduled. They were Dance Jubilee, with Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander, the Detroit Symphony with Paul Paray conducting and a guest piano soloist, and the Teltschuk Brothers, duo - pianists. Hopes were expressed that a fourth concert could be arranged at today's meeting.

At a formal dinner held earlier this week for workers in the association, Maurice Glazier, president of the Community Concert Association, presided at the meeting and Mrs. John Cale, campaign chairman, presented plans for the campaign.

Mr. Russell Rokkahr, field representative of Community Concerts, Inc. of New York, gave some pointers on securing memberships and was here this week to assist with the campaign.

Mrs. Eloise Anspach entertained with two vocal numbers, a nursery rhyme, "Ole King Cole" by Kabalevsky, and "Sing To Me Sing" by Sidney Homer. She was accompanied at the piano by Mr. Anspach.

It was announced that the headquarters in the Frances Hotel were open daily from ten until six in the afternoon and would close this afternoon. The headquarters telephone numbers are FA 3-6269 and FA 3-6293. It is hoped that the goal will be reached.

Only members of the association will be admitted to the concerts, with no sale of tickets for any one concert. All who wish to become members, and have not been contacted by a worker, are urged to contact headquarters at once. The entire venture of Community Concerts is strictly nonprofit and devoted in its entirety to bringing the finest artists available to Monroe for the enjoyment of its members.

Mix - And - Match Suits Men Fine

Men are buying more and more mix - and - match clothes and continue to prefer wool as a fabric, the University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension Service reports.

Sales of separate sports jackets and trousers showed a one - third increase from 1951 to 1956.

Industry production figures demonstrate man's preference for all - wool fabrics or those made with a woolen base.

More than 90 per cent of the regular weight suits made between 1951 and 1956 were wool or primarily of wool. Wool also was used in 35 per cent of the lightweight suits made in 1951.

There are more than 40,000 franchised new car dealers in the U.S. Pennsylvania has the most —2,654—and Nevada the least 87.

Miro Book Club Sponsors Self Help Program

Members of the Miro Book Club Woman's Club are putting America's pioneering spirit to work across the world: They're going to give needy people the tools to help themselves to a better future.

Plans for this people-to-people aid, which will stimulate education in its broadest sense, were announced today by Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, club president. The local effort is part of a national two - year project undertaken by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, through the CARE Self-Help Program.

All funds raised by Federated clubs in the United States, Mrs. Tidwell said, will be used to provide CARE Self-Help packages and equipment for schools, community centers and other training institutions in a dozen countries of Asia, Europe, the Middle East and Latin America. The supplies include such items as school kits, new books for elementary to university students, agricultural and vocational tools, midwifery kits, sewing machines.

"Education is the basic need in underdeveloped lands," Mrs. Thomas Jett explained. "It has to reach everyone, from the students in classrooms to the men and women in the villages. It has to take every form, from reading and writing to the techniques of better health and greater productivity. Self - respect is as important to the poorest peasant overseas as it is to us in America. The people are eager to learn how to use their own resources."

Gaston Home Setting For Supper Party

Dr. and Mrs. N. G. Gaston entertained on Thursday evening for Col. and Mrs. A. A. Winters, parents of Mrs. Harold Mouk Jr. Col. and Mrs. Winters are from Dayton, Ohio.

A supper party was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gaston for the attractive couple.

Arrangements of gardenias and roses were used throughout the party area.

Twenty - five guests were present. They were members of the family and close friends.

Electronic Home Of Future

Trips to the moon may be a far way off, but Mrs. American Homemaker won't have to wait that long for some startling events right in her own home. Some planners see the day when the home of the future will be all electric or electronic.

Imagine waking up in the morning and pushing some buttons on your master control headboard which starts the coffee, closes the windows, turns on the lights, and cooks your breakfast.

All this may take place before 1980. It will still take more than button pushing to get a good night's sleep however. This will still require a rested mind, fresh air in the bedroom and mattresses and springs that provide firm, but comfortable support.

Child's Behavior May Show Hunger For Love

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Children hanker for and need attention and if they do not get it by fair means they get it by foul. This is true of children attempting to get notice from adults as well as other children. The child who pushes, hits, bites may not have any other intent except to be looked at.

Here is a girl of six, Mrs. P. F.'s only child, who indicates by her behavior a strong need for companionship, probably more than she gets in ordinary play.

This mother writes, "She plays with children but she can't keep her hands off them. She wants to carry the small ones and 'manhandle' the older ones. She plays games but deliberately runs into children or grabs their arms. In swimming she dives into children and grabs at them, which is dangerous.

"I've punished her. I've told her it hurts them and I have even separated them from her, not letting them play. But this makes no impression upon her.

"It gets her into trouble and now with school, she'll have trouble coming and going. Children don't like her for it. She knows they don't like her but she doesn't seem to understand that if she didn't do these things, they would."

ANSWER

The child seems hungry for love. She wants to hold onto people and possess them in an excess of affection — which she shows in these ways. Lonely adults do the same thing, they can't meet you without clinging to you, holding an arm or a hand, postponing the moment when they will be alone again.

If you understand this, you should endeavor to get companions to come to your home, one or two at a time so as to supervise them and control your daughter's behavior with them. Then if she feels secure in their companionship, she will not have to use these tactics to get notice from them.

Such behavior is not uncommon in the early years; but if it continues beyond the seventh or eighth — when you have tried to fulfill her need for playmates and friends—then consult a Child Guidance Clinic or a Family Social Service Agency and get their personal help in unraveling her personality difficulties.

Tranquillizer Pills Are Not Popcorn

By DOROTHY ROE

If the happy pill boom keeps on at its present rate, women will be too relaxed to fall in love and men will be too tranquil to care.

This is the horrifying prediction of two bright young men who have declared war on the modern philosophy that there's a pill for everything.

They are Harry Middleton and Warren Kiefer, authors of the just published novel "Pax," a highly entertaining slap at the mushrooming drug business in America. They write under the byline "Middleton Kiefer."

Middleton and Kiefer were employes in the public relations department of one of the country's largest wholesale drug companies when they decided to quit and write a book about Americans swallowing tranquiliezr pills at the rate of a billion and a quarter a year.

"I just don't think everybody should get that relaxed," says Middleton. "You need to get mad or worried or tense once in a while, or you'll never do anything. Most of the great things accomplished in the world have been done by people who were blazing mad about something."

"This thing is really getting out of bounds," says Kiefer. "People take tranquillizer pills to keep them calm during the day, sleeping pills to put them to sleep at night and pep pills to wake them up in the morning.

"Now I hear they have an all-purpose capsule which releases various pills on schedule, over a 24-hour period. There are tranquillizers for part of the day, pep pills for other periods, sleeping pills and built-in alarms—pills to wake you up. This, I feel, is going too far. A man shouldn't surrender every reaction of life to a pill."

The authors are quick to concede that tranquillizer pills are important and effective in the treatment of many ills, when taken under careful medical supervision.

But they feel these drugs shouldn't be eaten like popcorn.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Thinks Son Should Help Pay Family Bills

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: One word from you could put an end to this family fight. Our son, 22, just finished his obligation to Uncle Sam and is going to college. He wanted to buy a second hand Mercedes-Benz. I said NO. His dad signed for him anyway.

They gave me a sales talk on what a "terrific buy" it was and how it would pay for itself in the long run because good cars never wear out, or some such rot.

Our son gets $110 a month from the government and has a part-time job which pays $170 a month. He thinks he should live at home free because he never asks us for anything. His dad makes $76 a week after deductions and it's a narrow squeak to pay the bills and put three respectable meals on the table. I say if the boy has money for foreign cars he should help out at home.

If you tell me I'm wrong I'll shut my mouth once and for all. —MA

Since your son is getting $270 a month he should pay at least $70 a month for board, room and other services which would not be free elsewhere. In fact, he could never get by on $70 if he were on his own.

More important than the money, however, is the moral issue. What kind of a vegetable are you raising anyway? Why permit a grown son to live free in the home of struggling parents while he puts plushy transportation at the top of his Must Have list.

When you let him get away with such selfishness you underwrite his distorted sense of values and encourage a total disregard for responsibility. A 22-year-old is no longer a kid. There's more to life than four imported wheels and if he doesn't know it by this time, you've failed as parents.

DEAR ANN: I'm a middle-aged widow who has met and fallen in love with a wonderful man. His wife divorced him to marry someone with more money. He feels that since he was a failure as a husband he's not fit to make another woman happy.

He is not a bitter person, just sensitive and filled with a sense of worthlessless and guilt because of his failure. He claims if he'd been a good husband, no man could have attracted his wife, and won her away regardless of his wealth.

It breaks my heart to hear this fine person run himself down. I know we could have many wonderful years together if I can get him over this feeling. Please help me. — DOROTHY

The wounds are probably still fresh, so don't hammer to hard on this unhappy man. Every broken marriage leaves scars but time is a great healer. Be patient and keep his ego bolstered without resorting to the "hard-sell". Gradually he'll stop beating himself and life will look brighter—for you both.

DEAR ANN: What can be done about the president of a club who has failed miserably to carry out his duties? We elected this individual because we thought he was competent and dependable.

He doesn't attend meetings and he shows no interest in the club's activities. The members have decided that the only reason he wanted to become president was for the prestige of the title.

How can we dump him without being too obvious? We don't want to be openly insulting as it would be bad for the club's reputation. — PRO-HEAVE-HO

What do the by-laws say about a president who doesn't function? If there are no provisions, there ought to be.

Should the constitution fail to cover this "emergency" and the majority of the members present at the next meeting feel as you do, they should request the president's resignation (nicer than booting him) and the vice-president then ascends to the presidency.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

RH Homecoming Festivities Are Held Recently

On Friday the Rayville High School had its Homecoming Day. The festivities were presided over by the 1958 Homecoming Court with Miss Charlotte Ann Stodghill reigning as queen. Miss Stodghill was named queen at the Rayville-Oak Grove game. Senior maid was Miss Linda Kay Ellington. Junior maid was Miss Judy Beasley, sophomore maid was Miss Judy Sanford and freshman maid was Miss Patricia Lane. Little Debora Brown was flower girl with Joe Morris as crown bearer.

Due to bad weather conditions the scheduled program was postponed until a later date. However, Mr. Allen Silk presented flowers to the queen on behalf of the Quarterback Club. Mrs. Sadie Cohen presented flowers from the Rayville Art Club to members of the court.

The Homecoming parade began the activities at 3 p.m. which featured members of the court.

From 4 until 6 p.m. the Alumni Tea sponsored by the Rayville Pep Squad honored graduates of the classes of 1918, 28, 38, 48, and 58. The table was covered with a white linen cloth with an attractive fall arrangement used as a centerpiece. Coffee, finger-tip sandwiches and cookies were graciously served by tea girls in fashionable evening dresses.

Ending the homecoming festivities was the homecoming dance held at the Rayville High School gymnasium immediately following the football game. The dance was sponsored by the junior class.

No Christmas Mail Will Be Undelivered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No Christmas mail will be left undelivered at any postoffice anywhere in the nation on Christmas day, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield promised Friday.

At the same time he issued his annual plea to mail early. He said mail for distant states should be deposited before Dec. 10 and greeting cards for local delivery should be in the mail by Dec. 16.

Summerfield predicted new mail processing techniques will do away with "the old-fashioned turmoil of bulging post offices deluged in an impossible Christmas Eve torrent of mail. . ."

For one thing, he said, "mail expediting centers" will be set up at selected suburban post offices. The centers will handle mail to and from other post offices in the vicinity instead of clearing everything through downtown installations.

Mailmen also will make repeated tries at delivering packages instead of leaving notices the first time around. The Post Office said this should "end holiday congestion in post office lobbies".

These and other innovations will enable more postal employes to spend Christmas day at home, the Post Office Department predicted.

4th Seasonal Fashion Show Opens Sunday

The Monroe Fashion Exhibitors will stage their fourth seasonal showing here on Sunday and Monday at the Penn Hotel with the most oustanding program of the organization's history readied.

Represented will be more than 150 lines of men's, women's and children's apparel, shoes, jewelry, accessories and handbags, according to E. L. (Buddy) Young of Ruston, president of the organization. In the showing will be the products of over 100 manufacturers in California, Illinois, Indiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, New Jersey and New York. Forty or more representatives of these firms will be on hand to manage the displays of their various lines of merchandise.

Formed about one year ago, Monroe Fashion Exhibitors has as their aim the presentation of merchandise for those retail merchants of the area who find it inconvenient to attend merchandise shows in distant cities. The same lines of goods found at all the larger shows are to be found at this weekend's display here, Young said.

Two attractions have been added to the schedule. One is a buffet luncheon in the Penn Penthouse from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m., Sunday, for visiting merchants.

The other will be the modeling of wearing apparel by 15 girls and six boys from Ouachita Parish School's distributive education department. These young people are specializing in sales work in their high school education program and such appearances as this Sunday will earn for them credits toward completion of the course, H. E. Rupper, supervisor of the program at OPHS, said.

Retailers from Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas have been attending the showings here and have been finding the events extremely convenient in the operation of their respective businesses, Young said.

The attendance at this weekend's showing is expected to be the heaviest yet on the basis of reservations already made.

LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE

SPARTA, Wis. (UPI) —Local businessman Lou Apple is a rare "weekend golfer" who has two holes-in-one to his credit. He got his first in 1951, then repeated the feat this year on the same golf course. His witness was Dr. H. H. Williams, also a member of the 1951 foursome.

Holly Ridge High School Social Events

A full schedule of social events was planned on Thursday night when the Holly Ridge High School held their annual homecoming.

By vote of the Holly Ridge football team the Homecoming Queen and four maids were selected to preside at the Homecoming Game that night.

The Queen was Miss Carolyn Roberts and the four maids were Miss Kathrine McManus, Miss Elsie Douglas, Miss Betty Farrar and Miss Sue Roberts.

Schedule of the events were as follows—10:20 a.m. a pep meeting was held at the school; 7:30 p.m. presentation of the Homecoming Court in a pre-game ceremony at the football with (Eaglets) pep squad and band participating. At 8 p.m. the game, Holly Ridge versus Wisner. On Friday the Hospitality Day at Holly Ridge School all the Alumni and friends were invited to visit the school. At 7:30 p.m. tonight the alumni banquet with an entertaining program is planned. At 8:30 p.m. the Homecoming Dance will be held in the school gymnasium.

Says Reds Ready To Send Wheat To Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia announced Friday the Soviet Union has expressed readiness to deliver 200,000 tons of wheat which it previously refused to send.

A government spokesman, Drago Kunc, said that during regular Yugoslav-Soviet trade talks Soviet representatives declared readiness to deliver the wheat. In August the Yugoslav press reported the Russians had declined to deliver the wheat as previously agreed. They ascribed the refusal to attempts by the U.S.S.R. to put economic pressure on Yugoslavia in connection with the Soviet bloc's anti-Yugoslav campaign.

4 Deadly Coral Snakes Killed By Area Residents

Four of one of the most deadly species of snakes in the world the coral, were reported killed by area residents during the past week.

Rev. Ken Renfrow killed two Wednesday near the Watson Elementary School in Ward 9. While hunting near his farm Thursday, Garland Denham of Bernice killed one of the brilliant, black, red and yellow reptiles and yesterday a Watson School student killed another on the school grounds.

Classified as the most poisonous snake known to man, the coral is common to the United States, but is rarely seen.

The two reptiles killed by Rev. Renfrow were taken to the West Monroe High School for preservation. The other two were destroyed.

Trial Delayed In Death Case At Jonesboro

JONESBORO (Special) —Joe Bell's murder trial was postponed in Second District Court here yesterday and tentatively scheduled for next Thursday or Friday.

Judge P. E. Brown granted the postponement at the request of Bell's attorneys, according to Sheriff Lloyd Bryant.

Bell, a 68-year - old Chatham man, stands trial for the axe-slaying of his neighbor, E. J. Wilhite, 74, whose body was found in a shallow grave Thursday, September 25.

Wilhite's relatives launched a search after he became missing on Wednesday, September 25, and later discovered his body in the grave behind Bell's house located in a wooded area near Chatham.

Bell later was taken to Monroe where Ouachita Parish Sheriff Bailey Grant's deputies questioned the suspected slayer. He originally denied the charges.

But under continued questioning, Bell admitted he killed Wilhite with a hand axe.

Jackson parish authorities removed Bell from the Ouachita jail and returned him here. He has been in the Jackson jail since, awaiting trial.

TO LIE IN STATE

Pope Borne On Last Procession

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Pius XII was borne in his last majestic procession Friday night to the high altar of the largest church in Christendom to lie in state for three days.

The 261st Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church in a line unbroken from St. Peter will be interred Monday far below the floor of St. Peter's Basilica in a crypt he himself chose for its obscurity among the tombs of his predecessors.

An awesome procession, rich with the ancient panoply of the church, brought the body of the 82-year-old Pope from the papal summer villa at Castel Gandolfo, 15 miles south of Rome, to its bier before the Altar of Confession. The procession of the glass-walled hearse bearing the body took more than three hours.

IN TEARS

A million Romans and tourists, many of them in tears, lined the route past the ruins symbolic of the ancient Roman Empire and the birth of the Christian faith.

A crowd of more than 300,000 stood in the cobblestoned square of St. Peter's under the setting October sun to watch the procession, led by 5,000 priests, reach the steps of the mother church. There, 20 men who during his reign carried Pius XII in processions on his gestatorial chair, slowly carried into the church the crimson - shrouded wooden coffin.

A tolling of bells sounded a requiem. The bells of St. Peter's shrilled in a cadence occasionally interrupted by the solemn booming of the great bell known as the Campanone.

Cardinals waited at the entrace to take part in the placing of the body on an inclined catafalque.

Earlier in the day, the 14 cardinals now in Rome, including Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, met as a special congregation and chose Msgr. Federico Callori di Vignali, prefect of the papal chamber, as governor of the Sacred College of Cardinals that will elect a new Pope in ultra-secrecy. The conclave must start before Oct. 27—probably on Oct. 24.

As the sad procession started, the Pope's will and testament was published. It was a 250-word document reflecting the character of the man. In it, he begged foregiveness of anyone he might have "offended" and asked the world to overlook his "mistakes and shortcomings."

He asked that there be no monument to him and that his burial be on a sacred place as obscure as possible. All his worldly goods he left to the church.

For this man, the faithful wept and prepared for a Novendiali — nine days of mourning at St. Peter's which will continue around an empty catafalque even after internment of the body.

Final burial rites Monday will include placing the body in a cypress coffin with red satin lining, enclosing the coffin in a second lead coffin and then placing the two sealed caskets within an elmwood coffin embossed with a cross and the papal coat of arms.

A half-hour ceremony surrounded the lying in state of the Pope whom almost 500,000,000 Catholics held to be the vicar of Christ on earth.

The body has been clothed in a long white albm, or gown, with a scarlet chausuble or sleeveles cloak, a white lace overmantle and ermine-edged cape. On the head is a white and gold mitre or pointed bishop's hat. The hands are encased in red gloves, the feet in scarlet papal slippers of soft felt.

The long procession was not without its human mishaps. At least a score of persons were injured in the crush on the route between St. John in Lateran and St. Peter's.

At a point, where the main highway leads into Rome and passes St. John in Lateran, the cortege pulled to a stop.

The body was borne inside and placed before the altar. Outside, wooden barriers held back a crowd of 100,000. A composite regiment of the Italian armed services slapped rifles to the salute.

The sediari—the chair bearers—brought in the body.

Msgr. Luigi Traglia imparted absolution, sprinkling holy water on the casket and waving the censer, holding burning incense.

The choir thundered into the "Benedictus" at the end of the brief ceremony and once again, the cortete resumed.

As it neared Rome, it swelled in size. Traditionally in Italy, anyone can join a general procession at the tail end.

The procession was a mile long as it approached the Colosseum, where Christians once were fed to the lions. It grew in size as it reached the Vatican itself.

In the late afternoon, the hearse crossed the border from Italian soil to the territory of the tiny Vatican state. Within minutes, the body had been driven to the frost steps, where so often, Pius XII had ridden in his gestatorial chair to take part in solemn ceremonies. In the pase there had been cheers and shouting.

Jeeps, Trucks Bought By City

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard yesterday announced the purchase of two jeeps and two trucks for the city's Civil Defense organization at a price of $700.

Howard made the purchase at Baton Rouge where Civil Defense surplus equipment is headquartered in Louisiana. He described the vehicles as being in "excellent condition." The vehicles were driven to Monroe by city employees Wednesday.

Trade School Closing Here Is Likelihood

The Ouachita Valley Vocational-Technical School in West Monroe may be forced to close its doors March 31 if additional operating funds are not available, it was reported.

S. W. Jackson, director of the school, said the $148,649.00 budget for this year is $51,153.00 less than the budget for the preceding year. The school may lose the entire high school enrollment in January, he said, unless they can guarantee the high school pupil now enrolled can complete the last semester of work.

In view of the present situation, Jackson pointed out, no guarantee will be forthcoming now. If the school is forced to close, the staff instructors may be lost. Industry has contacted many of the instructors, Jackson said, with the result that the school may be crippled for years with the loss of key personnel.

Jackson said it has taken as long as two years to find suitable instructors.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Red China Gives 'Serious Warning'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China Saturday issued its 27th serious warning to the United States, charging three U.S. warships intruded into its (12-mile) territorial waters Friday near Nationalist-held Matsu Island.

"This demonstrates that the United States is still continuing to carry out military provocations against China," radio Peiping said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Crown Forest Queen For '58 In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Miss Vickie Love of Koscuisko was crowned Friday 1959 Queen of the Mississippi Forests at the culmination of an hour-long parade that included six college and high school bands, drill teams and two dozen floats.

Miss Love, a high school junior and daughter of Sen. and Mrs. John Clark Love, succeeds Miss Jane Vinson of Winona.

Miss Mary Martha Martin of Tylertown, Miss Future Homemaker of America of 1959, was named first alternate.

Miss Love told the crowd she plans to attend the University of Mississippi but is uncertain about her course of study. "There is no hurry about marriage," she answered a query about her romantic interests.

Participating in the 18th annual parade sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry Commission were drill teams from Jackson Central High School, marching co-eds from Delta State College, Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Mendenhall High School and others. State officials and forestry leaders rode in automobiles.

Decorated trucks depicted the value of forestry to Mississippi's economy.

HOW'S THAT?

LONDON (AP) — "Make your worst enemy your best friend," says a notice outside a London church. "Drink is man's worst enemy," says a notice outside the mission hall next door.

Soviet Nuclear Explosion Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detection of a sixth detonation of a nuclear weapon in a series of Soviet Russia tests was reported by the Atomic Energy Commission Friday.

The commission said the blast, of relatively high yield, was fired north of the Arctic Circle.

It apparently was the sixth weapon fired in the series of tests which began Sept. 20 with two shots. Two additional weapons were fired Oct. 2, and detection of a fifth blast was announced by the Atomic Energy Commission Monday.

The tests continued a series started after Moscow announced last March that it was suspending nuclear weapons tests.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment in the U.S. dropped by 588,000 in September to a 1958 low of 4,111,000, the government reported. A joint report by the Labor and Commerce departments said September saw "a significant improvement in the job situation," especially for men.

SALES

The Commerce Department reported that retail sales fell 1.7 per cent during September to $16,324,000,000, and were 2.1 per cent below a year ago. On the month-to-month basis sales at durable goods stores fell 1.3 per cent while sales at other retail stores slipped 1.9 per cent.

SPENDING

Julian B. Baird, under secretary of the Treasury, said the Eisenhower administration is "resolved to do all within its power to contain and reduce federal spending." But to achieve this "aspect of fiscal soundness," he said there must be widespread public pressure on Congress to make it "exercise necessary restraint."

AUTO PRODUCTION

Strikes which knocked out all General Motors production and restricted Chrysler output held auto production in the U.S. this week below last week's output, Ward's automotive reports said. The agency said U.S. plants turned out 32,798 passenger cars and 11,048 trucks, against 34,464 cars and 14,313 trucks last week.

A. O. SMITH

An auto frame plant of A. O. Smith Corp. shut down, idling approximately 1,250 workers. Thomas Sullivan, plant manager, said the factory will be closed for an indefinite period because of the slow pace of assembly of 1959 Chevrolets.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 20 cents a bale higher to 30 cents lower Friday. Only nearby October showed a gain.

Nearby October opened interest was 23,600 bales at the start and, with only four October transferable notices issued at New York, small covering orders were sufficient to hold October contracts steady.

Liquidation and hedging kept the balance of the market on the defensive. The market was slow as traders generally awaited fresh incentives.

Private forecasts called for rain in the Dallas area while conditions in the Memphis territory were cloudy and cooler.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Cotton futures were mostly lower here Friday as weekend long liquidation and hedge selling met only scaled down trade buying.

Closing prices were steady, unchanged to 25 cents a bale lower.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Increased export demand for grains prompted active buying of wheat futures Friday and prices for the bread grain finished steady on the board of trade.

Buying of old crop wheat was moderately heavy and prices for these deliveries were up fractions at the close. The deferred contracts finished unchanged from Thursday's closes.

Other grain futures ended mostly lower, with the downturn of corn and soybeans mainly resulting from colder weather and forecasts for only slight amounts of moisture over the weekend. These conditions are considered favorable to soybeans yet to be harvested and for conditioning corn.

At the close wheat was unchanged to ⅝ higher, Dec. $1.96¼-⅜; corn ⅞ to ¾ lower, old style Dec. $1.13¼-⅜; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Dec. .64⅛-¼; rye ¼ higher to 1⅜ lower, Dec. $1.31⅝-¾, and soybeans ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, Nov. $2.16¼-⅛.

The Department of Agriculture issued its crop production estimate, also after the close, in which this year's corn production was placed at 3,686,218,000 bushels, up 95,452,000 bushels from the department's estimate of a month ago. Wheat production was estimated at 1,449,495,000 bushels, 3,034,000 more than the September forecast.

Stock Market Hits Another Record High

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market ended the week with a burst of power, rising to another record high in the heaviest trading of the year.

Volume soared to 4,610,000 shares compared with 3,670,000 Thursday and was the biggest since the yearend session of Dec. 31 when 5,070,000 shares were traded.

Coppers, steels, oils and drugs were about the strongest groups. Motors were up moderately except for Chrysler which dipped ½. Industrials accounted for the lion's share of the rise. Rails were mixed and utilities slightly higher.

The market's third record high of the week followed two days of irregularity. Volume piled up in waves of trading which put the ticker tape behind transactions on four occasions for a total of 31 minutes.

Boosts in copper prices by two major United States producers, sharp increases in steel production and evidence of heavy institutional buying were market factors.

Leading issues rose fractions to 2 points and more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 80 cents to the peak of $198.70 with the industrials up $1.50 to a record high, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 30 cents to a 1958 high.

Of 1,220 issues traded, 654 rose and 339 fell. There were 181 new highs for the year and 2 new lows.

Fourteen of the 15 most active stocks advanced. The list of favorites reflected strong interest not only in blue chips but more speculative issues.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 1,190,000 shares compared with 1,260,000 Tuesday.

Crop Prospects Improved, Says Ag Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported Friday that crop prospects improved again last month under the impetus of almost perfect growing weather, assuring a 1958 harvest far surpassing any previous year.

The corn crop led a parade of individual crops headed toward new records with an estimated production of 3,686,218,000 bushels. This compared with 3,402,832,000 bushels in 1957 and the 10-year average of 3,144,304,000.

Record yields were forecast both for food and feed grains, assuring consumers plentiful supplies of groceries and meats in the coming year. The prospective horn of plenty also could mean price concessions on some items.

BONDS

NEW YORK (AP)—Long-range U. S. government bonds closed slightly lower on moderate trading Friday, ending a four-day rally.

Corporates closed higher in active transactions with industrials providing much of the push. Utilities and rails also advanced while investment quality issues closed firm. Foreign dollar bonds were mixed.

Corporate trading mounted to $7,300,000 par value on the big board from $5,620,000 Thursday—heaviest since Sept. 23.
